

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT.

VOL. XXXVI

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1912.

8 Pages

No. 48

SOLID DELEGATION FOR CHAMP CLARK

Louisville Elects John C. C. Mayo
Committeeman Over Urey
Woodson Who Served Sixteen Years--McCreary Elected Chairman.

CONTEST THE NIGHT LONG

Louisville, Ky., May 30.—The Democratic state convention, in session long past midnight, instructed the twenty-six votes of Kentucky to vote as a unit for Champ Clark for president; elected John C. C. Mayo, the Eastern Kentucky millionaire, as a member of the Democratic national committee to succeed Urey Woodson, who has been a member for sixteen years, and named Rufus Vansant as chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

The administration forces were in the saddle from the time Governor James B. McCreary was elected temporary chairman of the convention over Senator-elect Ollie M. James by a vote of 658 to 567, until the adjournment this morning.

It was after 11 o'clock last night when the committee on resolutions made its report, instructing that Kentucky's vote be cast for Champ Clark for president.

Urges Woodson's Name.

It was then that Judge J. W. Henson, of Henderson county, a member of the committee on resolutions, offered a minority report. This report signed by three other members of the committee said that in view of the long and faithful services of the Hon. Urey Woodson, as a member of the Democratic national committee, and the compliment paid Kentucky by his being retained as secretary for eight years, that the convention be instructed to reelect him for a term of four years.

James Kehoe rose to a point of order, saying that it was his impression that the delegates to the national convention elected the national committee-man.

Judge Henson read a telegram from Norman E. Mack, of the national committee, to the effect that a Democratic state convention is a sovereign body, and can elect the national committee-man, or instruct the delegates, or leave it to the delegates themselves.

Mayo's Name Presented.

Mr. Kehoe moved then that the name of John C. C. Mayo be substituted for that of Mr. Woodson.

Ollie M. James demanded a call of the counties, and suggested that that vote be recorded as for Woodson or Mayo to elucidate the voting.

It required over an hour to call the counties, during which time there was a great deal of confusion, several of the delegates from the mountains attempting to vote the counties which were not represented by delegates at the night session.

Carries Second District.

Mr. Woodson carried every county in the second district with the exception of Christian and a part of Webster. One of the delegates from Webster declared that Dr. J. A. Goodson was violating the caucus agreement which was that the vote of Webster county would be cast as a unit for Mr. Woodson.

The result, as announced by Chairman McCreary was: Mayo, 698; Woodson, 496.

Early this morning the convention instructed the delegates to the national convention to vote for Champ Clark as long as his name was before the national convention.

The following are the delegates-at-large: Governor J. B. McCreary, Ollie M. James, J. C. W. Beckham, Judge Allie W. Young, John C. C. Mayo, Justice Goebel, Congressman A. O. Stanley and Ben Johnson.

The result is a victory and defeat for Ollie James. He secured a solid delegation for Champ Clark, but was himself defeated for temporary chairman by Governor McCreary. Urey Woodson, for eight years secretary of the national committee, went down in defeat with James, being defeated for national committeeman on the floor of the convention by John C. C. Mayo, by a vote of 698 to 496.

The administration forces made a clean sweep, electing Rufus Vansant chairman of the state committee; W. B. White, a member of the central com-

Continued on page 2

METHODISTS HAVE DAILY MEETINGS

Evangelist Haynes Arrives.

Large Crowds Attend--Services Four Times A Day--Beautiful Singing--Good Preaching.

BIG REVIVAL EXPECTED.

The Methodist evangelistic services are being held four times a day. Men's prayer meeting at 9 a. m., at the parsonage, noon time services at the shops, afternoon and night services at the church. The Rev. Mr. Springfield, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Lewis, the pastor, carried the meeting through last week. The Rev. Mr. Haynes arrived Saturday night and preached Sunday to large audiences.

A cordial invitation is extended to all Cloverporters to attend the services. Many of the women never miss a service and the number of men in attendance is increasing. Several of the engineers off the government boat were present Sunday night including the guests from the hotels.

MR. HAYDEN

Setting A Good Example To Main Street Business Men By Cleaning Weeds Off Of The Kitchen Pavement--A Clean Cloverport Wanted.

Sam Hayden, who is known by his friends as "Banty Hayden," is making rapid progress in pleasing the ladies. He has cleaned up the weeds around the English Kitchen and swept off the pavement that has been covered with coco cola tops for a year. He is going to keep up his good work because he says he likes to please the ladies.

The business girls who are down town so much are certainly grateful to Mr. Hayden and all the business men who are beginning to take some interest in keeping the pavements clean. If the men would quit spitting on the streets--the town would be far more decent and respectable. A "Clean Cloverport" is what the people want and soon the old town will be a pride to the citizens.

GOVERNMENT BOAT

Comes Into Port Here--Surveying River Near Addison--Engineers Visit Cloverport Saturday And Sunday.

The United States government quarter boat No. 3, visited Cloverport Saturday. The engineers are surveying the river near Addison in the interest of the plans to build a dam there. The party is composed of 40 men, many of them visited Cloverport Saturday and Sunday.

Coal Fields Inspected.

Men have been here during the last week looking over the old Victoria coal mines. Cloverport hopes that some business will develop from the investigation.

Making Good.

W. Harold Coombs, a former compositor on the Breckenridge County Democrat at Hardinsburg, was a passenger enroute to Louisville one day last week. He had been visiting friends in Owensboro. Mr. Coombs is a fine young man and a good printer. His friends in Breckenridge will be pleased to learn of his success.

Is Sole Proprietor.

Irve Richardson has bought the interest of his mother in his father's store and is now sole owner. He also gained his case against the Breckenridge Asphalt Co. and expects to open up the mines and ship Asphalt in large quantities in the near future. Mr. Richardson is a hustler and will bring life and business to Garfield. Marshall Morris, of Louisville, was down to see him recently to talk over and plan for opening the mines. There are bright days in sight for Garfield.

ACRES OF DIAMONDS IN BRECKENRIDGE COUNTY

Years and years ago there lived a certain ambitious man within gun-shot of the great diamond fields in Africa, over which the disastrous Boer war was fought. This man, whom we will call Diamond Hunter, for distinction, read and studied the literature and advertising matter of all the countries in the world except his own. He believed somewhere in the world there were fields of diamonds--and like many of us in Breckenridge county, believed they were far from home. Diamond Hunter started on his world's chase for fortune, then a very young man. After years of toil and hard work abroad and far from loved ones, he crept back to his African home, sack on his back, and told his home people: "There are no diamonds, because I have searched the world." One of his boyhood pals said: "You are standing on diamonds now--the whole countryside about you is now giving to the world its supply of precious gems. You have searched far and wide but not at home where acres of diamonds lay under your feet."

There are upwards of five thousand male voters in Breckenridge county, the majority of whom are live, able-bodied, healthy citizens, with good healthy minds. The trouble is, we have too many Diamond Hunters. We rear our families of boys and girls and read to them from the farm papers about the wonders of Oklahoma and Texas, about the virtues of the Northwest and balmy clime and fertile fields of California. We read to ourselves and tell the boys about rich orange groves of Florida and the celery crops down there that make men rich in a season.

Our boys grow up and leave home. They travel to the country that "Pa" told them about. Our girls have shy ambitions for a foreign beau, thinking he can make her a better living. The boys who make good, we hear of; those who do not, and they are in the majority, we know not. The girls, God bless them.

We make Diamond Hunters of our boys and of ourselves because we do not realize that right here in Breckenridge county we have

THE MOST LIVABLE CLIMATE,

THE MOST FERTILE ACRES,

THE RICHEST UNDEVELOPED OPPORTUNITIES,

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL SCENERY,

in fact

ACRES OF DIAMONDS

The thing we do realize, which should mortify and shame every full grown man in the County, is:

BRECKENRIDGE COUNTY HAS DISGRACEFUL ROADS.

The reason many of our blessed women in Breckenridge county have to help their husbands in the field, and the reason many of our men grow to manhood without being able to read and write, is because our bad roads have been millstones around their necks and their fathers' necks for years. Without good roads, schools and churches and social activity are impossible. Those counties and states that have built good roads are the communities that have advanced. Their people could communicate with each other, exchange ideas and thus improve themselves.

Good roads in Breckenridge county would help us cash in the bountiful gifts of Providence. We could then develop the acres of diamonds that lie everywhere about us. The Diamond Hunter would then come to us. Our boys and girls would remain at home among loved ones.

The people of the North, East, South, and West praise Kentucky. There is magic in the name. We should justify this praise and develop our opportunities. Start at home, start in Breckenridge county. Tell your magistrate he must give you better roads. When a man asks you to vote for him for anything put the good roads question square up and make him come clean.

The County is willing to help, the State is anxious to help, and Congress will help those people at home who first help themselves. Other counties and states are drawing funds from these very channels, because their people act as well as talk.

Our bad roads are mute evidence of our own neglect.

Our lethargy is robbery!

How long shall we continue to rob ourselves of our own acres of diamonds?

NEW FARMERS BANK BUILDING, HARDINSBURG, KY.

WILBUR WRIGHT, FIRST MAN TO FLY, DIES

Pioneer In Aviation Victim Of Typhoid Fever After Long Illness--Leaves A Large Fortune--Was Born Near Millville, Ind.

HAD NO TIME FOR SOCIETY.

Dayton, Ohio, May 30.—Wilbur Wright, the first man to actually fly in an aeroplane, died this morning.

He had been ill of typhoid fever for several weeks and his death came after a relapse. Messages of condolence have been received from all over the world.

The family believed that the crises had passed two days ago, but the physicians were not so hopeful. The patient had been unconscious for some time and at midnight he began to sink rapidly. For the first time the physicians attempted to give him nourishment yesterday morning. He died peacefully just before dawn.

The life of Wilbur Wright is so interwoven with that of his brother, Orville, that no one but the surviving brother himself will ever be able to set forth the exact share of both in the honor and the fame accorded to them for the practical solving of the great problem of aerial navigation. The world has never been told what Wilbur did or what Orville did; to which one the first idea came; it does not know which one planned the first glider or the latest equilibrator, which one hit upon the vertical rudder, the warping plane, the advantage of placing the operator's seat on the lower plane; no one knows which one worked out the first theory of air currents, which one glided against these rising and spiral currents, and in all likelihood the world will never know any of this, for every attempt to divide the "we" into "I's" has been absolutely without success. Only this has trickled out, Wilbur Wright was the first man in the history of the world to leave flat ground in an engine driven, heavier than air flying machine.

The brothers have grown wealthy, with more money pouring in upon them every day. The success never turned the head of either.

Wilbur Wright never married and had no time for society. Unless some function kept him up, he preferred to go to bed at 9 o'clock at night and arise before 6 o'clock in the morning.

Adair--Gans.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Adair announces the engagement of her grand-daughter, Brownie Adair, to Mr. Henry Calhoun Gans, of Owensboro, Ky. The marriage will take place June nineteenth.—Hancock Clarion.

Notice.

On account of the Sunday School convention on last Sunday the committee in charge decided to postpone the memorial exercises of Breckenridge Lodge No. 61 until Sunday, June 9th. The committee regrets that the decision for a change came too late to notify all the members, but earnestly requests all members to be at the Castle Hall at 2 o'clock p. m. Sunday, June 9.

(Chas. May, Sr.,
Com. Roscoe Leslie,
W. A. Roff.)

Valuable Real Estate Sold.

V. G. Babbage, attorney for Mrs. Reidel, has sold the vacant lot known as the Reidel corner, in this city, to Mr. Marion Behen for six hundred dollars cash.

At The Hotels.

Since last Wednesday at the St. George Hotel: R. L. Talcott, Louisville, R. S. Thomas, Boston, O. B. Hancock, Evansville, A. Preult, Cincinnati, F. P. Reynolds, Marietta, Ga., G. R. McCallister, Owensboro, F. M. Dutton, Louisville, V. C. Regoa, South Bend, A. C. Fehl, St. Louis, Chas. Mook and wife, Louisville, A. G. Froman, U. S. G. B. No. 3, J. F. Stigno, Frankfort, C. E. Purdy, Pittsburgh, Pa., Alix Reese, Newburgh, Ind., J. H. Jackson, Hawesville, Miss Anne Hambleton, Sorgho.

At the Duncan House, Mr. Exshaw and son, of England; Mr. Hogan, Mr. and Mrs. Leon, of St. Louis; H. V. Harris, of Louisville; Miss Allen.

WEBSTER HAS TRIUMPHANT DAY

In Sunday School Work. Convention The Best Ever Held In The County. Mr. Henderson Re-elected President. Royal Entertainment

OTHER OFFICERS APPOINTED

The County Sunday-school Convention held at Webster Friday evening and Saturday was the best known in the life of the association. Webster put on her best bib and tucker to entertain the delegates and guests, numbering three hundred. A fine dinner was served and it was a great day for Sunday-school workers.

Officers elected were as follows: T. B. Henderson, President; C. L. Bruington, Vice President; Mrs. Ata St. Clair, Secretary and Treasurer; W. D. Smith, Superintendent Adult Department; Miss Eva Carrigan, Superintendent of Secondary Department; Eliza Piggott and Julia Lyon, Superintendents Elementary Department; Miss Maude Smith, Superintendent Organization; Ira Behen, Superintendent of Education; Miss Nora Driskell, Superintendent Home Department and Visitation; Marvin Beard, Temperance and Purity.

The program was as follows:

FRIDAY EVENING SESSION

7:45—Devotional Service, Rev. L. K. May
8:00—Minutes of Last Convention, Secy.
8:15—Home Study, Prof. C. A. Tanner
Song

8:30—Stewardship, W. J. Vaughan
Appointment of Committees

SATURDAY MORNING SESSION

9:45—Devotional, Rev. M. L. Dyer
10:00—Words of Welcome, Rev. L. K. May
10:10—Response, Rev. F. E. Lewis
10:20—Cradle Roll, Mrs. Hoi Drane
Song

10:30—Equipment and Organization

(a) Elementary, Mrs. W. D. Smith

(b) Secondary, Mrs. W. J. Piggott

(c) Adult, Ira Behen

11:05—Round Table, W. J. Vaughan

11:35—Offering, W. J. Vaughan

SATURDAY AFTERNOON SESSION

1:15—Devotional Services

1:30—Definite Decision for Christ, Rev. M. L. Dyer

1:40—Our Assets and Liabilities, J. B. Weaver

Song

Continued on page 5

SUNDAY BASE-BALL IN CLOVERPORT

Horries Sunday-School Workers. Postmaster Oelze Makes a Stirring Talk Against It At Sunday-School Convention. Mr. Vaughan's Address Fine

The District Sunday-school Convention held in the Lucile Memorial church Sunday afternoon was an excellent meeting. Prof. Chas. A. Tanner presided. Miss Laura Satterfield, who was re-elected secretary, read the minutes of last year's meeting at Hites Run.

Mr. Ira Behen, Superintendent of the Methodist Sunday-school, gave a good address on the greatest needs of the Sunday-school. This was followed by a fine talk on how to hold the boys, by Mr. R. L. Oelze. He said that the Sunday ball game kept the Cloverport boys away from church. "Their hearts are in the game" said Mr. Oelze.

Mr. Vaughan made a splendid talk, and those who missed it cannot realize how much they have lost.

Mr. Oelze was elected president.

B. C. H. S. Normal.

The Normal issued by The Breckenridge County High School is a credit to the trustees, teachers and pupils of the school. It contains photographs and every item of a standard Normal.

Has Wharf Boat.

Will Pate has been made agent at the Louisville and Evansville wharf boat here. Sam Brown, the confectioner, resigned on account of the increase of his confectionery and baking business.

LIVE LIKE A MILLIONAIRE

Buy Convenient and Pleasure Seeking Equipment at Your Own Price. We Have Anything you Want

RUNABOUT

We have a number of different styles of Runabouts. The wheels of these vehicles are made of selected white hickory; the painting is done by the best and most skilled workman, using the best material. We have them in all colors. We carry this vehicle in Stick, Panel and Twin Auto seat, Rubber and Steel tires. Price $35 to $75

R. B. C. Blue Ribbon Lawn Mowers $2.25 to $10.00

White Mountain Freezers $1.25 to $3.25

TOP BUGGIES

These buggies are trimmed in genuine leather, 56 inch bodies; full length carpets; padded wing dash; four seat rods and A grade throughout; we have these buggies in plain seats and tops, two-in-one with plain tops and two-in-one twin Auto panel seats with Auto tops, made out of the best Auto Cloth on the market. We also carry them in steel tires, standard shaped and cushion rubber. The rubber used in these tires is the famous Kelley Springfield make, the best rubber used on any buggy made. $100

Two-Horse Surrey

Extension top with brake and pole; body made of superior hardened sheet steel; steel twin Auto seats. Each seat is made of best yellow poplar, patent leather dash-board, wide double fenders, silver trimmed lamps; wheels—best Indiana hickory; upholstery—genuine leather; all wool, blue or green broadcloth; painting—gear, bronze green Carmine stripe; body elegantly finished; leather top, genuine Auto material, waterproof; prices to suit your pocket book.

Complete Line Hardware, Farm Implements

Oil Stoves, Refrigerators—all sizes, Ice Cream Freezers, Furniture, Paints and Oils, the famous Mastic paint, the paint used by all first-class painters and railroads.

Window Screen; Black. Wire Cloth

24 in. 9c per yard	26 in. 10c per yard
28 in. 11c per yard	30 in. 12c per yard
32 in. 13c per yard	34 in. 14c per yard
35 in. 15c per yard

Building Material

Everything that goes into the building of a house. Estimates furnished

Irvington Hardware and Implement Co. IRVINGTON, KY.

SOLID DELEGATION FOR CHAMP CLARK

Continued from page 1

mittee from the state at large, and A. G. Rhea a member of the executive committee from the state at large.

The convention was late getting started at night and it was nearly midnight when the committees were ready to report.

Fourth District

The McCreary-Beckham forces swept the Fourth district meeting, elected W. C. Montgomery, a strong McCreary-Beckham man, member of State Central Committee, and voted down overwhelmingly a resolution to indorse Urey Woodson for national committee-man.

Delegates National Convention—J. L. Druin, of Nelson, and M. H. Beard, of Breckinridge.

Alternates National Convention—W. O. Jones, of Grayson, and C. J. Hubbard, of Larue.

Member State Central Committee—W. C. Montgomery, of Hardin.

Elector—R. L. Durham, of Green.

Assistant Elector—John Campbell, of Grayson.

Vice President Convention—Judge William Jackson, of Taylor.

Resolutions—Judge J. S. Glenn, of Ohio.

Credentials—H. G. Sanders, of Taylor.

Permanent Organization—C. R. Hardin, of Hart.

Breckinridge Democrats

Henry DeHaven Moorman, of Breckinridge county, and Bob Layman, of Elizabethtown, took charge of the Fourth District Convention soon after it was called to order by State Executive Committee-man, Sam T. Spalding, in the Italian garden at The Tyler at 10:00 o'clock. There was but the slightest suggestion of a hitch in the program and the administration forces after taking the first hurdle—the race for delegates to the National Convention—in easy fashion, were never headed.

The only attempt at resistance to the program, as mapped out by the administration leaders, came in the race for National Committee-man in which John C. C. Mayo defeated Urey Woodson by a vote of eighty four to thirty five. Meade, Washington, LaRue and Ohio counties stood firmly for Woodson.

On motion of Layman, Judge Dave McCandless was made chairman of the convention, with C. P. Aradbury, of Bullitt county, secretary. When the race for delegates to Baltimore was called Layman nominated J. L. Druin, of Nelson county and Morris Beard, of Breckinridge. J. D. Wilson, of Green county, was nominated by J. R. Sanders, but after four counties had been called the latter asked that his name be withdrawn in the interest of harmony.

When Layman introduced a motion to instruct the delegates to the National Convention to vote for Mayo for committee-man, a motion was made by former Congressman Dave Smith to substitute the name of Urey Woodson. A motion to table both the motion and amendment was lost and the vote by counties called. W. B. Hill nominated for the Credentials Committee, withdrew after four counties had been called.—Courier Journal.

Fence Fund For The Methodist Church Here

Miss Mildred Babbage and Miss Ida White have started a fence fund for the Methodist church. They are anxious to raise money enough to build a fence on the line dividing the side yard from the alley. All contributions will be gratefully received.

IRVINGTON.

Mrs. C. S. Board, Miss Mary Helen Board and Master Jack Board were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Henderson at Webster and attended the County Sunday School Convention.

Mrs. Nannie Adkisson, of Hardinsburg, was the guest of Mrs. G. W. Bandy Friday.

Miss Sue M. Board and Mrs. Nathan Board, of Big Spring, were guests of Mrs. R. B. McGlothlan Tuesday.

Leon Lewis, of the Louisville School of Law, came down Saturday night to spend the summer with his sisters, Misses Ethel and Viola Lewis and Miss Eva Carrigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Payne expect to be in their new residence in Maple ave. by the middle of July. The work, under contractor, Bramlette is going on rapidly.

James Owen Cunningham, who has been in State College since September, came Saturday to spend his vacation here with his sister, Mrs. Louis H. Jolly. He was accompanied from Louisville by his brother, Crafton, who has been attending the Louisville Training School.

Mrs. Nannie J. Wathen is at home from a visit in Louisville, Indianapolis and Bardonia Junction.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Neafus and children were guests of Mrs. Neafus' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Neafus, at Guston for the week end.

Misses Guedry Bramlette, Julia Lyons, Mary Alexander and Nelle Smith form a lovely quartette of Irvington girls. They are making things merry at the home of Miss Myrtle Lyddan, where they are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Lyddan, at Webster.

Miss Carrie D. Frakes, who has been a pupil in Logan Female College at Russellville since the beginning of the mid year term, returned home Wednesday evening. She will spend her vacation at the country home of her uncle, Chas. H. Drury.

Mr. W. J. Vaughn, of the State Sunday School Association, delivered an interesting address at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening.

Miss Mary Nevitt was the guest of Miss Essie Kendall for the week end.

Mrs. L. B. Moremen was in Louisville Wednesday.

Mrs. Willard Arnold and Miss Bessie Arnold were in Louisville Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Henry, of Leitchfield, were guests of Mr. Henry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Henry this week.

Miss Sue Bandy spent the week end in Webster, the guest of Miss Mildred St. Clair.

Mrs. S. P. Parks, Mrs. W. J. Piggott and W. J. Vaughn, attended the Sunday School Association of the Bewleyville District, which met at Rosetta Friday.

John R. Wimp attended the State Democratic Convention which met in Louisville last week.

Mrs. Nannie Robertson, of Guston, is here as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Ashcraft.

Jim Witts bungalow which is being erected in Moremen Addition will shortly be ready for occupancy.

Do not fail to write your friends to meet you "On The Pike" at the Fourth of July Barbecue.

Miss Maggie Bandy and Poin Gallo-way spent Wednesday in Louisville.

The B. Y. P. U. will give a lawn party June 13th., from 7 to 10 on Mr. J. B. Herndon's farm. The public is invited.

$3.50 Louisville Evening Post and Breckinridge News one year $3.50.

ADDING DAYS TO HIS LIFE

Paradoxical Problem Is Solved Through Obvious Point in Circumnavigation.

A correspondent sends to the Herald a paradoxical problem which, he believes, originally appeared in Piesse's "Chymical, Natural and Physical Magic," published some 50 years ago. Two persons were born at the same place, at the same moment of time. Fifty years after they both died, also at the same spot and at the same instant; yet one had lived 100 days more than the other.

The possible solution turns on a curious but very obvious point in circumnavigation. A person going round the world toward the west loses a day; going toward the east he gains one. Suppose, then, two persons born together at the Cape of Good Hope, whence a voyage round the world may be performed in a year; if one performs this constantly toward the west, in 50 years he will be 50 days behind the stationary inhabitants; and if the other sail equally toward the east, he will be 50 days in advance of them. One, therefore, will have seen 100 days more than the other.—Glasgow Herald.

Ill In Louisville.

Mrs. T. V. Van Meter is ill in Louisville at The Deaconess Hospital, under treatment and fighting against an operation. Her many friends here and at Irvington hope she will soon be well. Mrs. Van Meter is the sister of Mr. Clayton Claycomb of this city.

NEVER HEARD OF HEAVEN

John and Joseph Shake Their Heads When Questioned by Judge in New York Court.

New York.—Rabbi Harris Platkin, who has one synagogue in Grand street, Brooklyn, and two in Manhattan, appeared in the children's court to press charges of malicious mischief against two young brothers, one aged thirteen years and the other ten. The elder of the two, John Waitukartis, was found guilty. Little Joseph was allowed to go home. John will be paroled.

The rabbi alleged that the two boys threw bricks at him and struck him in the head with one of them, and called him names.

Judge Ryan, when examining the boys, asked them if they had ever heard of God or heaven. John and Joseph, in spite of their biblical names, shook their heads.

Love by Wireless Angers Uncle Sam.

Newport, R. I.—The latest thing to retard official wireless communication of the naval torpedo station and ships of the Atlantic fleet is the large number of messages from girls smitten by the manly jack tars of the big ships.

These maidens, living in Boston and other large cities along the coast, send the most trivial messages to their seafaring friends. One of the most ardent messages intercepted here was from "Sweetheart Maggie" to "Darling Jack," in which Jack was implored to come to Boston as soon as he could because Maggie's heart was "just melting away" for him and he hadn't kissed her for so long her "lips were dry."

Captain Williams, commanding the torpedo station, has incorporated many of the messages in a report.

Fine Son Arrives.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lynch, of Man, W. Va., on May the fourteenth, and left a fine boy, which they are both very proud. His name is William Henry, in honor of his grand-father, Wm. H. Lynch, of Allen, Ky.

Subscribe Today!

NATIVES AWED BY VOLCANO

Region West of Cook Inlet in Alaska Mapped by Geological Survey.

Nome, Alaska.—The volcanoes of Alaska are not all dead, and those that smoke are held in dreadful awe by the natives.

When the Indians living on the west shore of Cook Inlet first beheld a smoke-belching steamer nearing their village they fled precipitately, first closing their houses so that the 'demon of the volcano,' which they believed was approaching, might be induced to pass by.

As late as 1883 Mount Augustine, a volcanic cone which rises 4,000 feet out of the waters of the Inlet, was in violent eruption, and Mount Iliamna and Mount Redoubt, about 10,000 feet high, towering above the coast range,

An Active Volcano.

were in eruption in 1854 and 1902, respectively.

That Vulcan is still active within these mountains is attested by the persistent clouds of steam rising from their summits and by occasional light showers of volcanic dust.

The natives say that Iliamna is the name of a great demon-fish which lives in Lake Iliamna and is ever on the watch to destroy the unwary, so that the native who risks himself on its waters in his frail craft is accounted venturesome.

The lake is, however, the largest fresh water body in Alaska, and is frequently swept by terrific gales. It is 80 miles long by 8 to 20 miles wide—somewhat larger, perhaps, than Long Island sound. Its bottom is far below sea level.

North of the tributary to Iliamna lake is Clark lake, more than 50 miles long, but narrow. This lake is 220 feet above the ocean tides, but in places is more than 600 feet deep.

The region containing these interesting volcanoes and lakes was the scene of very early missionary endeavors and trade exploitation by the Russians. Nevertheless little exact knowledge of the region has been acquired, and that has been largely inaccessible to the public, so that the recent investigations by the United States geological survey, a report on which has just been published, should be welcome.

This report describes the geographic and geologic features and the mineral resources of an area covering more than 5,000 square miles lying west of Cook Inlet. The geology is treated at considerable length, and so also the prospective mineral resources, which are copper, gold, silver and petroleum.

None of these minerals have yet been shipped from this district, but the region may nevertheless some day become important commercially.

"Pa," asked the young hopeful, "what does dining a la carte mean?"

The father did not know, but he did not wish to show his ignorance. "It means," he explained, "that is—er—it means eating in a lunch wagon."—Judge.

DR. FLOYD GILLIATT

Graduate of Indiana Veterinary College
Veterinary Surgeon and Dentist

All stock treated for all diseases. Phone in both residence and office. Office in Farmers' Bank Building. Get acquainted with my profession. All calls answered promptly.

HARDINSBURG, KY.

The Interests of Small Depositors

Are not overlooked in this bank!

We value small accounts, and do all we can to make this class of depositors feel at home. We are in a position to assist depositors in conservative ways to develop their interests, and invite the consideration of our facilities for rendering large or small service in a satisfactory way.

FIRST STATE BANK, :: Irvington, Ky.
J. C. PAYNE, Cashier

RURAL TELEPHONES

Mr. Farmer, are you interested? If so, call on the manager of the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company and have him explain the special "Farmers Line" rate.

CUMBERLAND TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH COMPANY
(Incorporated.)

PUT an advertisement in this space and see if you don't increase your sales at least one-third

MR. JEFF HAMBLETON

Anxious That Cloverport Organize A Cemetery Association. Would Be Encouraged By Former Residents Who Have Loved Ones Buried Here.

Tuesday of last week Mr. Jeff Hambleton, of Henderson, was here to see his father, Mr. Ed. Hambleton, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lightfoot. Mr. Hambleton said while visiting the Cloverport cemetery here, that the thought occurred to him how worthy it would be for Cloverport to have a cemetery association.

Mr. Hambleton spoke of it to several. Few men became interested, but the women appreciated the need of it and thought the association should be organized. Mr. Hambleton said that if the women would start the movement, he knew the men would stand by them. He said men willingly (when asked) always gave financial help to such causes.

Mr. Hambleton suggests that the women of the churches get together and form the organization.

More money should be expended yearly to improve the condition of the Cloverport cemetery. "I have a friend who says that a town's character is judged by three things" said Mr. Hambleton, "its churches, its schools and its cemetery". Cloverport, like other towns, is visited and judged every day.

Those who are interested in the organization of such an association for the town, write to the Breckenridge News and give your views and ideas of how to start the movement.

Each age of our lives has its joys. Old people should be happy, and they will be if Chamberlain's Tablets are taken to strengthen the digestion and keep the bowels regular. These tablets are mild and gentle in their action and especially suitable for people of middle age and older. For sale by All Dealers.

FISHER

Pal Garner, of Hardinsburg, was here Tuesday.

Mack Quiggins and Dennie Smith attended the Sunday-school convention at Glen Dean last Wednesday.

Miss Jewel Moore, who has been a student in the Normal at Bowling Green is at home for the summer, having made a certificate of first grade.

Prof. Nick Mercer, of Dallas, Texas, is here visiting relatives.

Jim Lampton has improved the appearance of his residence with a new coat of paint.

M. M. Mercer has been repairing his residence.

Will Moore was in Leitchfield Thursday.

They have a splendid prayer meeting at Antioch every Wednesday night.

Mrs. L. B. Moore asks us to thank Mr. Babbage for the boost given her son, J. F. Moore.

Mrs. Nora Hunter was the guest of her mother, Mrs. N. M. Mercer recently.

Milt Miller was in Leitchfield Saturday.

There is no real need of anyone being troubled with constipation. Chamberlain's Tablets will cause an agreeable movement of the bowels without any unpleasant effect. Give them a trial. For sale by All Dealers.

"BIG EIGHT" TO NATIONAL CONVENTION

John C. C. Mayo; Gov. James B. McCreary; J. C. W. Beckham; Ollie M. James; Allie W. Young; Justus Gossel; Ben Johnson; A. Owsley Stanley.

ALTERNATES

Walter L. Harkins; A. D. Martin; B. W. Bradburn; Ben V. Smith; M. M. Redwine; N. W. Utley; Herman Southall; J. A. Donaldson.

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN

J. C. C. Mayo.

ELECTORS STATE-AT-LARGE

Robert Harding and H. V. McChesney.

ASSISTANTS

H. M. Merideth and Charles Montgomery.

STATE CHAIRMAN

R. H. Vansant.

A sprained ankle may as a rule be cured in from three to four days by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle. For sale by All Dealers.

COLORED CHILDREN'S DAY WILL BE NICE SERVICE

Children's Day will be observed by the colored Baptist church on the third Sunday in June. Prof. Dean has charge of it and the scholars are getting up a nice program.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home of Swamp-Root, Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Taft Has a Happy Dream

Philadelphia, May 28.—Pres. Taft was so fatigued by his trip through New Jersey that this afternoon he peacefully slept while hundreds looked through the window of his car.

The train bearing the President arrived at Broad street station shortly before 3 o'clock. The President, with his hands folded in his lap, reclined in a deep wicker chair near the window. His head rested against the cushioned back and as his chest rose and fell, smiles flitted across his face. His supporters, who breathlessly watched from the outside, declared that he was dreaming that he had won New Jersey.

It is now well known that not more than one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts at each application. Try it and see how quickly it will relieve the pain and soreness. Sold by All Dealers.

Harvey With Wilson Again

Although interested, Col. George Harvey positively declined to affirm or deny a Washington rumor which was called to his attention yesterday afternoon to the effect that he had been in that city within the last few days for conference with Rep. H. D. Clayton of Alabama and other Underwood leaders.

According to the report his purpose was to arrive at an understanding with the Underwood forces as to what had best be done to check the Champ Clark boom. And Col. Harvey is reported to have counseled a rally around Gov. Wilson as the best course for the Underwood men, who are beginning to favor a more radical candidate.—New York Sun.

Officers Are Chosen For The Federation.

Mammoth Cave, Ky., May 30.—The State Federation of Woman's clubs Wednesday afternoon elected the following officers:

Third Vice President—Mrs. Morris Bartlett.

Fourth Vice President—Miss Laura Clay.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. J. A. Mitchell.

Treasurer—Mrs. Thos. Clay, Jr.

Auditor—Mrs. John Thixton.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Rebecca Averill.

When your child has whooping cough be careful to keep the cough loose and expectoration easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as may be required. This remedy will also liquify the tough mucus and make it easier to expectorate. It has been used successfully in many epidemics and is safe and sure. For sale by All Dealers.

A Kentucky Berry Patch

(Bowling Green News)

A $7,000 crop of berries from one patch! This is the amount of money the owners of the crop on the Covington farm, a short distance from the city, estimate they will secure for the fruit grown on this farm. This patch contains twenty acres in berries and it is said the banner crop of warren county will be produced.

It is claimed that 4,000 crates of the luscious fruit will be the bearing on the twenty-acre plot, which will mean a total of 24,000 gallons. This one patch will require 200 pickers. The blossoms are now rapidly developing into green berries and by next Sunday the fruit will begin to ripen and the pickers will begin work by next Monday.

Gen. Booth May Lose Sight.

London, May 28.—The physicians in attendance on Gen. Booth of the Salvation Army are afraid that the operation for a cataract has not been successful, as anticipated. The left eye was inflamed at the time of the operation, but the inflammation spread today to the other eye, seriously jeopardizing its sight.

Executrix Notice.

"All persons having claims against the estate of Chester B. Beavin, deceased, are notified to present or send them to the undersigned executrix of his estate, duly proven as required by law, on or before the 1st day of July, 1912."

Mary A. Beavin.

Executrix of the estate of Chester B. Beavin, deceased. P. O., Cloverport, Ky."

Little George Dead

George Stewart, (colored) the grandson of Aunt Martha Briddell, died Thursday night. He was thirteen years old, sadly afflicted, and very small. He was a good child and won the kindness of everybody.

PILES DEFY THE KNIFE

The Cause Of Their Formation Still Remains.

One place where surgery fails to bring permanent relief is in the treatment of piles, because even when the evil tumors are cut away, the cause of their formation still remains. That cause is poor circulation. Dr. Leonard's HEM-ROID is the tablet remedy that is taken inwardly and gets right to the inside cause.

HEM-ROID is sold for $1 by A. R. Fisher, Cloverport, Ky., and all druggists. Money back if it fails. Dr. Leonard Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

McQUADY

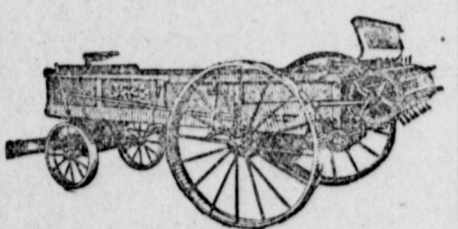

Little Miss Anna May Wilson and brother, W. D., of Irvington, are guests of their grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilson.

Miss Jessie Frank spent a few days this week with relatives near Glen Dean.

Mrs. May Wright and little son, James, left Tuesday for an extended visit with relatives in Texas.

Miss Minnie Snapp spent last Sunday with Mrs. John Marshall at Hardinsburg.

Study Manure Spreaders Before You Buy One

THE proper place to study a manure spreader is at the local dealer's place of business, where you can see the machine, study it part by part, see how each part is made and how it does its work. Study spreaders at first hand. Go to the local dealer and have him show you an

IHC Manure Spreader Kemp 20th Century Cloverleaf or Corn King

Learn the advantages of an apron spreader. Learn what constitutes a steady, reliable feed and the importance of it. Learn the reasons why different materials are used for different parts, and why each part does its work thoroughly. Learn the value of the service the dealer can give you.

When you know manure spreaders we think you will buy an IHC spreader from your local dealer. He is the man to see.

International Harvester Company of America (Incorporated) U S A

Chicago IHC Service Bureau The purpose of this Bureau is to furnish free of charge to all the best information obtainable on better farming. If you have any worthy questions concerning soils, crops, land drainage, irrigation, fertilizers, etc., make your inquiries specific and send them to IHC Service Bureau, Harvester Building, Chicago, U S A.

COME TO LOUISVILLE!

We will Rebate 5 Per Cent of Your Total Purchases Up to the Amount of Your Round Trip Railroad Fare.

Ⓒ This not only saves you the cost of your traveling expenses, but it also gives you the advantage of our big assortments and extra low prices, which we are enabled to quote by reason of our being affiliated with the greatest buying organization in the world.

DRY GOODS
FURNITURE
FOOTWEAR
CARPETS

MILLINERY
READY-TO-WEAR
AND HOUSE
FURNISHINGS

J. BACON & SONS
ESTABLISHED IN 1845
INCORPORATED

THE OLD RELIABLE BRECKINRIDGE BANK

Cloverport, Ky. Organized 1872

UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY SOLID AS A ROCK FOR 40 YEARS

An Absolutely Safe Place to do Business.

3 Per Cent on Time Deposits

You See This?

So Would
Other People
See Your

Advertisement

For Sale

15 H. P.

F. M. WATKINS GAS OR GASOLINE ENGINE

This engine is in good condition; has been run about 4 years and is a bargain to anyone needing a stationary engine. Has all necessary pipes, gasoline tank which holds about 30 gallons; has detachable gasoline pump and a natural gas attachment. Reason for selling—entirely too large for my purpose. For further information call on or address

JNO. D. BABBAGE, :: Cloverport, Ky.

Cumberland Telephone No. 46.

Don't Fail to See Us For Up-to-Date Job Work.

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS,

JNO. D. BABBAGE, Editor and Publisher

Issued Every Wednesday.

EIGHT PAGES.

CLOVERPORT, KY., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1912

Subscription price $1.00 a year in advance.

BUSINESS LOCALS 10c per line, and 5c for each additional insertion.

CARDS OF THANKS over five lines charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

OBITUARIES charged for at the rate of 5 cents per line. money in advance.

Examine the label on your paper. If it is not correct please notify us.

Courtesy to the newspapers can do more good for the public welfare than one realizes. Remember, when a newspaper representative honors you by asking you for information that you are not merely favoring him, but you are giving satisfaction to the public by giving the press reliable information. There is nothing that brightens the work of the press more than to have those on the list who can be depended on to help furnish particulars and facts for the paper in a willing, accommodating manner. It is a pleasure to think of the friends of the Breckenridge News in Cloverport who are always glad to remind you of events and other items. Give to the newspaper and it shall be given unto you, and the same measure that you give out courtesy and kindness and truthfulness to the press, the same shall be measured back to you again.

The women of Cloverport are going to have a Woman's Club and every woman, young and old, should get thoroughly interested in it. The club will have several departments. There will be no dues and all expenses will be met by entertainments. If you are interested, send your name to E. S. in care of the Breckenridge News. This club will create a great public spirit and sentiment. Its benefits to Cloverport are unlimited.

The post-office at Lodiburg has been re-painted all white. Such civic improvements should be made in all towns. Uncle Sam ought to set the example of cleanliness and attractiveness in his public buildings. Mrs. Ida Nottingham is post-mistress at Lodiburg.

J. B. Weaver said at the County Sunday School convention: "The two women who have done more for the Sunday School work in the State are Miss Nannie Lee Fraysier and Mrs. Walter J. Piggott, (our Mrs. Piggott.)"

The big four in the Fourth—Will Montgomery, Bob Layman, Morris Bear and Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman.

Co-operation among neighbors will make a Clean Cloverport and a delightful, healthy town.

The biggest thing in sight now in this county is the Fourth of July Barbecue at Irvington.

Ollie James is a pretty big man but he wasn't big enough to nominate himself.

Things politically are seething hot in Chicago today. Teddy is still in the ring.

If you don't think this town is improving just take a stroll down in Cowheel.

The Hon. Ben Johnson gave a few orders that were promptly obeyed.

Dr. Milt Board is quiet but still in the ring.

MONSTER SALE

Of Cattle--Watkins Carriers & Co. Sell 3,000 Head of Slop Cattle At Big Prices.

Mr. Taylor Watkins of this city informs the News that his firm of Watkins Carriers & Co. have disposed of their 1,800 head of slop cattle at Athertonville and have also disposed of the 1200 in which they had a half interest at Carrollton and about 100 out of the 600 they have at Frankfort. One car load was sold at Chicago at $8.00 and one at Pittsburg at $7.90. These were the top prices but the entire 3,000 averaged at least seven cents weighed up at the distilleries from whence they were shipped.

This represents about the largest cattle transaction ever made in this part of Kentucky and the cattle brought something like $250,000. There was quite a nice profit to the firm who handled them, running up into the thousands.—Etown News.

Mrs. Hardesty Dead.

Raymond, June 3. (Special)—This neighborhood never was more shocked than they were when the news was received that Mrs. Lillie Hardesty was dead.

She and her husband and baby attended church at Payneville on Sunday and spent the afternoon with her father, Mr. Joe Fackler, returning home and made no complaint of anything hurting her, and a short time after her husband arose Monday morning he saw there was something the matter and called for help, but alas! She had breathed her last before any one could get there. Nothing could seem sadder than to see her lying dead.

Mrs. Hardesty was born August 12, 1889, was married to Henry Hardesty Nov. 8, 1910, and died May 20, 1912. She leaves a husband, a six weeks old babe, a father, one sister and several brothers to mourn for her. She was buried the following day at Mt. Merino. To know Mrs. Hardesty was to love her. The writer expresses her deepest sympathy.

Reduced Rates.

$3.04 Cloverport to Evansville and return, account Evansville Courier Aviation Meeting June 6, 7 and 8, 1912. Dates of sale: June 6 and 7, 1912. Return limit, June 10, 1912.

$2.98 Cloverport to Louisville and return, account Kentucky Education Association, June 25, 26 and 27, 1912. Dates of sale: June 24, 25 and 26, 1912. Return limit, June 30, 1912.

STEPHENSPOET

Rev. Cottrell, of Cloverport, preached here Sunday.

Miss Julia Fella, of Holt, was the guest of Henrietta Shively last week.

Mrs. Eddie Kroush, of Frymire, was in town Thursday.

Miss Francis Severs, of Union Star, was the guest of Mrs. R. A. Smith Tuesday.

Mr. Fella, of Holt, was in town Thursday.

Mrs. P. D. Hawkins left Saturday for Danville where she will attend the graduation exercises of her son, Jamie Hawkins.

Robert Hammon, of Cloverport, is the guest of his uncle, Mr. P. D. Hawkins.

Mrs. C. J. Perkins and son, L. J. Perkins, and Mrs. Sam Stites, of Louisville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Dowell Sunday.

H. A. Basham and daughter, of Lodiburg, were in town Thursday.

Buhrman Dowell returned home from Valparaiso Wednesday.

Mrs. F. C. Ferry and son, of Louisville, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Miller this week.

Lionel Connor came home Saturday night to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cashman, of Union Star, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Barbee Sunday.

Miss Lillian Cart, of Union Star, was in town Monday shopping.

Mrs. Will Dowell and daughter, Virginia, of Union Star, were in town Thursday seeing friends.

Prof. McCoy and wife returned home to Cloverport Saturday.

Miss Nannie Hall, of Union Star, returned home last week after visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith.

Mrs. R. A. Smith is visiting in Hardinsburg.

Miss Minnie Morris attended quarterly meeting at Holt Saturday.

Gardner Hawkins left for Danville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. French and daughter, Belva Jane, returned home from Louisville Wednesday.

Mrs. Jas. Crawford is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. S. English, Jr., of Ammons.

Several here attended the funeral of Mr. Letch Brown at Sample Tuesday, May 28.

Write Louis Jolly about the Free Trip to Niagara Falls given by the management of the 4th July Barbecue, Irvington.

Fiscal Court.

The Fiscal Court will meet next Friday, June 7 at Hardinsburg to pass on smallpox claims. Squire Geo. Harris requests that all persons in his district who have claims file them with him and he will take care of them.

The Traveling Public

can make journeys pleasant by Cooling, Refreshing Drinks

Ice Cream Sodas, Cherry Sundaes or Chocolate Soda Waters make a

Hot Day Pleasant

5c Spent at the Soda Fountain is never missed, but brightens and Stimulates "a body"

While you are in Irvington visit our Handsome

Soda Fountain

Only a few minutes to partake of

"A Pleasure that Lingers"

IRVINGTON PHARMACY,

Irvington, :: Kentucky

HARDINSBURG

In the Circuit Court last week the following cases were disposed of: J. W. Carman & Co. vs the Breckenridge Tis Co., judgement for the plaintiff for $143; Dennie Sheeran vs L. H. & St. L. R. Co., judgement for plaintiff for $190 for killing stock; Mrs. Tousey vs The Columbia Life Insurance Co., judgement for the plaintiff for $1000 and interest; J. W. Kennedy vs Breckenridge & Meade County Insurance Co., judgement for plaintiff for $540.

First class repairs of watches, etc., and a fine first class line of watches, silverware, spectacles, jewelry and musical instruments and findings at T. C. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Beard's new seven room bungalow is progressing nicely.

Mrs. A. Marshall went to Basin Springs Monday to visit her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Gibson. Mrs. Marshall is in poor health.

The Hon Gus Brown, Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman, Dent Brown, John T. Hoben and Herbert Beard are in Elizabethtown on legal business.

The college boys are at work splitting wood at 20 cents a cord and earning $1.50 to $2 a day. Good boys.

WANTED!

20,000 Feet No. 1 Common and Better Poplar Lumber

1, 1 1/2 and 2 inches thick, 10, 12 and 14 feet long; Dry preferred but will take it green from the saw, for which I will pay highest market price.

I carry a complete stock of

BUILDING MATERIAL

Windows, Doors, Mouldings, Brick, Lime, Cement, Sand, Crushed and Foundation Stone, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Floor Finishes, Window and Door Frames and other Planing Mill work made to order.

Contracts: Carpentering, Painting, Plastering, Concreting, Stone and Brick Work at the lowest possible prices consistent with good workmanship and material. Prices and estimates on application.

MARION WEATHERHOLT, Cloverport, Ky.

The Sinking of The Titanic

Here was a vessel which embodied men's greatest skill and ingenuity in ship building, starting out on her maiden voyage across the ocean. Her builders, her captain, her crew and every passenger had absolute faith in the staunchness of this great ship; but there was over-assurance, and because of this, carelessness, not enough life boats were provided. The last orders from the bridge of the Titanic before she made her final plunge into the mighty ocean was "WOMEN AND CHILDREN FIRST"

The sea of life is no less perilous; filled with as many icebergs and obstacles; human life is as uncertain as the voyage of the Titanic. Take warning—provide life boats. Modern society has no more staunch life boats than those provided by a life insurance policy with the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. of Newark, N. J.

The Leading Annual Dividend Company. Organized 1845

DAVIS D. DOWELL, Salesman, Hardinsburg, Ky.

M. W.'S ATHLETICS

Meet Defeat-But No Better Boys In The Baseball World--They Have Victory Before Them and Will Get It.

Marion Weatherholt's Athletics went to Hardinsburg Saturday and had a game with the Hardinsburg Ju iors. The score was 7 to 1 in favor of the latter team. The Athletics are: Muriel Morrison, Albert Perkins, Joe D. Morrison, Walter Weisenberg, Harry Berry, Forrest Weatherholt, Forrest Moorman, Virgil Bowlds, Jess Hall, Elmer Hoffous, Clarence Bishop, Leonard Weatherholt. This is one of the best teams in the country and does not play on Sunday. Monday night Mr. Weatherholt and his Athletics attended the Methodist meeting in a body and a good and rare sight it was to see so many boys together in church.

Mr. Weatherholt has fine influence over his boys and he would make a splendid Scout Master, if he had time to devote to Scout work which is being carried on in every city and progressive town in the country.

Free Trip To Niagara Falls

AND ALL EXPENSES PAID TO

The Most Popular Young Lady in Breckenridge and Adjoining Counties

CONTEST WILL BE HELD AT THE

FOURTH OF JULY BARBECUE AT IRVINGTON, KY.

Write Louis Jolly for Particulars

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1912

THIS PAPER REPRESENTED FOR FOREIGN ADVERTISING BY THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

GENERAL OFFICES
NEW YORK AND CHICAGO

BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIES

RATES FOR POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Precinct and city Offices.....$ 2.50
For County Offices.....$ 5.00
For State and District Offices.....$ 15.00
For Calls, per line......10
For Cards, per line......10
For All Publications in the interest of individuals or expression of individual views per line......10

LOCAL BREVITIES

Fresh fish at Weisenberger's.

Vivian Pierce has gone to Mobile, Ala.

Rev. Cottrell went to Louisville Monday.

Mrs. Wick DeHaven was in Holt Saturday.

Arthur Daugherty was in Louisville Sunday.

Miss Stella Weatherholt was in Louisville Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Smith have moved to Stephensport.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond May were in Louisville Monday.

Mrs. Frank Mattingly is visiting relatives at Princeton.

Mrs. B. Elder, who has been ill for some time, is better.

Mrs. John David Gregory was in Louisville last week.

Mrs. William Ashby and daughter were in town Monday.

Aluminum Collapsible Drinking Cups from one cent up—Nolte.

Miss Lucy McGavock spent the weekend with relatives in town.

Fried fish served at all hours of the day at the English Kitchen.

John Gregory, of Louisville, is the guest of Mrs. Clyde Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus McCoy have returned home from Union Star.

Mr. Vaughan was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tanner Sunday.

Misses Lucile Berry and Lottie Matheny spent Sunday in Howell.

Mrs. Abe Skillman and Miss Margaret Skillman have been in Louisville.

Robert E. Moorman, of Glen Dean, was the guest of Miss Ray Heyser Sunday.

Misses Martha Miller and Jeannette Burn will go to Louisville this week for a day.

Miss Jane Hambleton, of Louisville, arrived home Saturday night to spend a month.

Mr. Dick Skillman, of West Point, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Skillman.

Information was received here last week of the death of Joe Ray, who lived near town.

Arthur Campbell and Otis Basham have issued bills for an ice cream supper at Dukes.

H. V. Harris, of Louisville, made a business and social visit here Sunday and Monday.

Gen. David R. Murray, of Indianapolis, visited his daughter, Mrs. Fred Perry Sunday.

Richard Wathen was here from

Don't Forget When INSURING

that you can be robbed as well as your property burnt up. Protect yourself and your business with one of our policies. We write all form of Burglar Insurance.

Fire, Tornado, Plate Glass, Fidelity Bonds

Deeds, Mortgages and other Legal Papers written and all forms of acknowledgments taken.

Marion Weatherholt
Cloverport, Ky.

Owensboro Tuesday the guest of Miss Francis Smith.

N. H. Quiggins returned home from Hardinsburg Friday after being on the jury two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wroe and baby, of Flemingsburg, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wroe.

Miss Eloise Nolte, who has been attending college in Louisville, will arrive home today.

Miss Jennie Mabel Harris, of Louisville, arrived Wednesday to visit Misses Eva and Edith Plank.

Rev. Lewis, John Burn, Ira Behen and Jno. D. Babbage attended the convention at Webster Saturday.

Mrs. Keith and grand-daughter, Anna Elizabeth Keith, were in Owensboro last week with Mr. J. Proctor Keith.

Frank Moorman has a position in Louisville. Edison Gibson has his place at the shops telegraph station.

Miss Lucy Patterson, who has been in the millinery store of Miss Evelyn Hicks, left yesterday for Terre Haute, Ind.

Mrs. Cottrell will be hostess to the Ladies Missionary Society of the Baptist church at the parsonage next Monday afternoon.

Dr. H. D. Moorman, of Aurora, Ill., attended the Dental meeting in Louisville and visited his relatives in Glen Dean last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moorman and son, Jackson Harpole, of Louisville, were guests of their mother, Mrs. Sallie Moorman Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Lishen Tousey was in Hardinsburg last week and received judgement from the court in her case against the insurance company.

Miss Nina Willett attended the Willett-Holland wedding at Shelbyville. A special interurban car carried a large party of guests to the wedding.

Miss Mamie DeHaven attended the commencement exercises of Norton's Infirmary—where Miss Jane Hambleton took every honor given the class.

The Cloverport Ice Co. closed a deal with the U. S. Government Monday to furnish 5,000 pounds of ice a week to the surveying crew that is at work east of town.

Mrs. Fred Perry and daughter, Annie Murray, went to Louisville Monday evening to visit Mr. and Mrs. George Wolf. Mr. Wolf and family will leave soon for Montgomery, Ala., where he has entered business.

John D. Babbage, Jr., who spent two weeks vacation with his parents, will arrive in Atlanta this week, where he will engage in the real estate business with the Colonial Hill Company. His office is at 1426 Candler Building.

Maurice Vincent, the little fourteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Quiggins, while out playing last Wednesday slipped away through a broken fence to the next yard and got a severe fall, injuring his right hip and has not been able to walk for several days, but is doing nicely.

TRIUMPHANT DAY

Continued from page 1

2:15—Graded Instruction W. J. Vaughn

2:40—Missionary Plans, Mrs. Tom Gregory

2:50—Purity, Mrs. R. L. McGlothlin

3:05—Temperance, Dr. S. P. Parks

3:20—What can be done with our Home Department, Miss Eva Carrigan

3:35—Measuring a Sunday school, W. J. Vaughn

4:15—Report of Committees, J. B. Weaver

4:25—Installation of Officers, J. B. Weaver

Adjournment.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"We thank our Heavenly Father for the perfect day, for His many temporal and spiritual blessings, and for the association with His children in this interdenominational Sunday-school work and its influence on character building, among the young people especially, offer the following suggestions:

"We heartily endorse the advanced methods now in vogue and would especially urge that more attention be given the Adult organized class work and the Cradle Roll. We further recommend trained teachers for all grades and suggest teacher training classes and that Sunday-schools provide literature for the teacher's information as well as for the entertainment of the young. We would urge a regular observance of Missionary Day with a special program or some feature to emphasize the importance of the work.

"We approve the temperance work and urge all Christians to live so that all may know that they have been with the Master.

"We wish to express appreciation to the good people of this church and community for their cordial reception and for the bountiful provision for the innerman.

"We thank the musicians for their contributions to the success of this convention.

"We also desire to thank our State workers who have brought us a message from their ripe experience in

Those old Daguerreotypes

of grandfather, grandmother, and Aunt Mary, and then the quaint pictures of father and mother taken just after the war—money couldn't buy them from you.

Are you forgetful of the fact that future generations would cherish just such pictures of you?

At Cloverport this week, and at Irvington Monday.

C. G. BRABANDT
PHOTOGRAPHER

Christian work.

"Respectfully submitted,
"Mrs. J. R. Wimp,
"Mrs. G. L. Bruner,
"Rev. F. E. Lewis,
"Eva Carrigan."

NOTES

The County Sunday school Convention which convened in Webster Saturday, June 1, was, in the words of one of the State workers, the best ever held in Breckenridge county. There were representatives from almost every school in the county, and these with the State workers filled the church to overflowing.

Webster people never do things by halves. The church was in gala attire, having recently been given a new dress of paint, both inside and out; her walls being attired in a most becoming suit of tobacco brown paper.

The music rendered by the most excellent choir of the congregation was most inspiring. This congregation is fortunate in possessing what few country churches have—a piano and an organ.

The convention was presided over by Breckenridge county's most worthy president, Mr. T. B. Henderson, than whom there is none better within the State.

The morning session of the convention was somewhat hampered in its proceedings by cause of the delay of the west bound passenger train, and the consequence was the late arrival of some of those on the program.

The most excellent paper on the cradle roll, by Mrs. Hol Drane, showed her to be capable of handling this department of Sunday-school work in a most efficient manner.

Mrs. Piggott's talk on the elementary department was in her usual enthusiastic vein and quite up to the standard of excellence.

The subject of "Our Assets and Liabilities" as handled by the State president, Mr. B. Weaver, was listened to with intense interest. Mr. Weaver said in part: "The assets of a firm organization or corporation is whatever is owned by the same. Their liabilities are whatever debts or obligations are contracted by these firms or men."

The Sunday-school convention, is the bringing together of the Sunday school. Capitalists from all over the country to day to cast up our accounts in the greatest business of this world—the business of the King. In the religious world are you doing what is shown by your balance sheet? What cause have you for happiness? Dr. E. Y. Mullins once asked a class of little children what they had to be thankful for; one little tot said she was thankful for her curly hair; another was thankful because her eyes were blue; and when he asked a boy who was snub nosed, cross eyed, freckled face, and crowned with a shock of red hair, what he was thankful for, the boy said: "Well, He well nigh ruined me." God writes every one's character upon the faces of his creatures. The sunny face is but the shining reflection of the happy life within. The happiest people in the world ought to be the Christian people, for this is our world. The children, the greatest asset of the home, the state, the nation, for so swiftly does the shuttle fly in and out the fabric of time that too soon the child of today is the man of tomorrow. How shall we reach the three thousand

Carpenter AND Contractor

Estimates furnished on new work or on repairs. Give me a show on your job. Best of references

Leslie Pool
Hardinsburg, Ky.

Wants.

Wanted—Young Man

WANTED—A young man 18 to 25 years old to work on the farm and attend to things around the house. Do anything that is to be done; good salary. FRANK ENGLISH, Skillman, Ky.

Lost—Silver Pin

LOST—Silver pin with "S. E. M. C." on it. Finder return to News Office.

For Sale—Pension Certificates

PENSION CERTIFICATE—At the News Office. An exact copy of those issued by the Pension Office. Get one now before they are all gone.

For Sale—Store House

MY House and lot on the Turnpike. Price $275 cash—$500 on time. For particulars write JAS. SALLIE, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—4-ROOM HOUSE

FOR SALE—A 4-Room House with nice veranda and good outbuildings; a well, and 50 acres of good land right at the railroad station. A never-failing spring near by. A good place for a grocery store or a blacksmith shop. This property is at Rockvale, Breckenridge county, Ky. For further particulars, call on or address me at Rockvale, Ky. J. H. AUBREY

For Sale

FOR SALE—A 15 horse power stationary Gas Engine; Watkins make. In good repair.—Breckenridge News, Cloverport, Ky.

For Sale

FOR SALE—Deeds, Mortgages and all kinds of legal blanks.—Breckenridge News, Cloverport, Ky.

BALL & MILLER

Livery, Feed and Sale Stable

Bus Meets all Trains

Hardinsburg, Ky.

boys and girls of school age in Breckenridge county that are unsaved? Have you ever determined what was your work in the Master's vineyard? What is your duty to the boys and girls in your county who know not the King? You may not cross the ocean, And heathen lands explore But you may live for those about you: You may find the heathen at your door. Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians and Episcopalians, let us all join hands in the march through Breckenridge for the unsaved children of our county.

The remaining topics on the program were handled in a most able and efficient manner. A most impressive and marvel feature of the day was the installation of the newly elected officers by Mr. J. B. Weaver.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDDERS FOR RENT OF SPRINGS, 1912

U. S. District Court

Lillian C. Nielson, - - Complainant Versus

Tar Springs Sanitarium Company and others - - Defendants

By order of court, I hereby advertise for bidders for the use of the Tar Springs Sanitarium Company's property for the remainder of the year 1912. The renter gets the use of fifty acres of land, the hotel and cottages and all furniture and other personal property on the grounds and formerly used; which means the plant ready for operation, as it now stands.

I will rent the property to the highest and best bidder, at public outcry, at the courthouse door in Hardinsburg, Ky., on Monday, June 10, 1912, at one o'clock p. m., for cash or bond with adequate security. The property to be rented is worth more than $20,000, and affords a great opportunity for some one to make big money this season. There are dozens of attractive features of this proposition that I cannot mention here. Write or see, at once, R. O. Perkins, Receiver, Cloverport, Ky.; R. A. Miller, Atty., Owensboro, Ky.; or Henry DeHaven Moorman, Hardinsburg, Ky.

R. O. PERKINS, RECEIVER, CLOVERPORT, KY.

BIG SPRINGS

Miss Agnes Hynes has returned from Russellville where she has been a student at Logan College since last September.

J. H. Harned, of Vine Grove, was here Friday.

Mc Russell, of Louisville, was the guest of J. E. Carter Sunday.

Lewis Clarkson has secured a position at Bowling Green.

Herman Barnett spent Sunday at Custer.

Miss Agnes Hynes spent Wednesday in Louisville with her uncle, C. H. Moorman.

Gus Richardson, of Guston, was here Friday to see his sister, Mrs. Julia Clarkson.

Mesdames A. D. McCans, Dick Clarkson and John English, of Elizabethtown, were here last week to see Mrs. Julia Clarkson and other relatives.

Rev. Winchell and wife, of Eron, spent Sunday here.

Notice the crotch of this Union Suit. It is closed

Closed like a pair of drawers. No seam, buttons or opening in the crotch. Perfectly smooth, elastic, comfortable. No binding, bunching or chafing. The

White Cat Union Suit with Klosed Krotch

(Patented)

is the first really comfortable union suit. You will never know real underwear satisfaction till you try it. Come and let us show it to you.

J. C. NOLTE & BRO.
Cloverport, Ky.

ALL ARE BENEFITED

A young man upon being asked why he did not open a bank account said: "Oh, banks are for rich people." "No," said his adviser, "it is quite the reverse; it is true that the banks help the wealthy man because without them he could not handle his money but they help the poor man to make and save his money. His meagre deposits, made while he is at the foot of the ladder, are safely preserved for him. After he has shown himself to be a saver and has established himself at the bank, they loan him money with which to make more money. The bank helps the wealthy man take care of his money, but it helps the poor man MAKE his."

START AN ACCOUNT WITH THIS BANK.

THE FARMERS BANK, :: Hardinsburg, Ky.

IF YOU WANT TO IMPROVE YOUR BREAD,

Produce a Lighter and more Uniform Quality. Get greater results with less effort; want your baking to be a satisfaction to yourself and a delight to your family—

Then Use Lewisport Best Flour

It will do all this—and more. Every sack guaranteed

LEWISPORT MILL CO.

Lewisport, Kentucky

H. E. ROYALTY PERMANENT DENTIST

Hardinsburg, Kentucky

OFFICE OVER FARMERS' BANK

Mrs. Jack Collins and daughter, Miss Pearl, went to Flaherty Thursday.

T. W. Scott, of Vine Grove, spent Wednesday here.

Pierce Hardaway, of Bewleyville, attended the Mason lodge Friday night.

Rev. King left Tuesday for a ten days' visit with his daughters, Mrs. Topping and Miss Lee King, of Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Kitty Wimp, of Owensboro, is with her granddaughter, Mrs. Van Nelson.

Rev. Odus Penick will fill the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday.

Foot Race.

Louis Jolly and Harry Conniff have entered for a foot race at the 4th of July Barbecue at Irvington. This promises to be the exciting event of the day. Both young men are fast steppers.

RAYMOND NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Hardesty, Sandy Hill, and Miss Ruth Elder, Mooleyville, took dinner with "Buddy" Hardesty Sunday.

Mrs. Ottis Stiff and son, Melvin, and Miss Edith Knott attended the S. S. Convention at Webster Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown, Payneville, visited relatives here Sunday.

Willis Chappell and C. L. Avitt delivered their tobacco at Irvington last week.

Miss Payne and Mr. Frank Ammons, of Ammons, spent Saturday night at Sam Ater's.

Mrs. Blanche Lewis, of Ammons visited her aunt, Mrs. W. L. Black Sunday.

Mrs. James Stiff and son, Union Star, were the week end visitors of Mrs. Corrae Knott.

The friends and relatives of Mrs. Thomas Hall, together with her met here on last Thursday to observe Decoration day. After partaking of a delicious dinner they all went to the grave-yard and decorated the graves of their relatives and friends. After which all went to the church and listened to a very touching talk made by Rev. I. C. Argabright. None seemed to enjoy the day more than did Mrs. Hall. There were one hundred in attendance.

Write Louis Jolly about the Free Trip to Niagara Falls given by the management of the 4th July Barbecue Irvington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Avitt, of Lodi-burg, visited their daughter, Mrs. Henry Cashman, Sunday.

Renfro Knott and family spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hardesty, of Payneville.

EXCUSE ME!

Novelized from the Comedy of the Same Name

By Rupert Hughes

ILLUSTRATED From Photographs of the Play as Produced By Henry W. Savage

Copyright, 1911, by H. K. Fly Co. CHAPTER XV.

A Premature Divorce.

Suddenly Marjorie's heart gave a leap of joy. She was having another idea. "I'll tell you, Harry. We'll pretend to quarrel, and then—"

"And then you can leave me in high dudgeon."

The ruse struck him as a trifle unconvincing. "Don't you think it looks kind of improbable on—on—such an occasion?"

Marjorie blushed, and lowered her eyes and her voice: "Can you suggest anything better?"

"No, but—"

"Then, we'll have to quarrel, darling."

He yielded for lack of a better idea: "All right, beloved. How shall we begin?"

On close approach, the idea did seem rather impossible to her. "How could I ever quarrel with you, my love?" she cooed.

He gazed at her with a rush of lovely tenderness: "And how could I ever speak crossly to you?"

"We never shall have a harsh word, shall we?" she resolved.

"Never!" he seconded. So that resolution passed the house unopposed.

They held hands in luxury a while, then she began again: "Still, we must pretend. You start it, love."

"No, you start it," she pleaded.

"You ought to," she beamed. "You got me into this mess."

The word slipped out. Marjorie started: "Mist! How is it my fault? Good Lord, are you going to begin chucking it up?"

"Well, you must admit, darling," Marjorie urged, "that you've bungled everything pretty badly."

It was so undeniable that he could only groan: "And I suppose I'll hear of this till my dying day, dearest."

Marjorie had a little temper all her own. So she defended it: "If you are so afraid of my temper, love, perhaps you'd better call it all off before it's too late."

"I didn't say anything about your temper, sweetheart," Marjorie insisted. "You did, too, honey. You said I'd chuck this up till your dying day. As if I had such a disposition! You can stay here."

She rose to her feet. He pressed her back with a decisive motion, and demanded: "Where are you going?"

"Up in the baggage car with Snoozeleums," she sniffed. "He's the only one that doesn't find fault with me."

Marjorie was stung to action by this crisis: "Wait," he said. He leaned out and motioned down the aisle. "Porter! Wait a moment, darling. Porter!"

The porter arrived with a half-folded blanket in his hands, and his usual "Yassah!"

Beckoning him closer, Marjorie mumbled in a low tone: "Is there an extra berth on this car?"

The porter's eyes seemed to rebuke his ears. "Does you want this upper made up?"

"No—of course not."

"Ex—excuse me, I thought—"

"Don't you dare to think!" Marjorie thundered. "Isn't there another lower berth?"

The porter breathed hard, and gave this bridal couple up as a riddle that followed no known rules. He went to find the sleeping car conductor, and returned with the information that the diagram showed nobody assigned to number three.

"Then I'll take number three," said Marjorie, poking money at the porter. And still the porter could not understand.

"Now, lemme onderstan' you-all," he stammered. "Does you both move over to numba three, or does you—yo—lady remain heah, while jest yo—pre-amblables?"

"Just I preambulate, you black hound!" Marjorie answered, in a threatening tone. The porter could understand that, at least, and he bled away with a meek: "Yessah. Numba three is yours, sah."

The troubled features of the baffled porter cleared up as by magic when he arrived at number three, for there he found his tyrant and tormentor, the Englishman.

He remembered how indignantly Mr. Wedgewood had refused to show his ticket, how cocksure he was of his number, how he had leased the porter's services as a sort of private nurse, and had paid no advance royalties.

And now he was sprawled and snoring majestically among his many luggage, like a sleeping lion. Revenge tasted good to the humble porter; it tasted like a candied yam smothered in 'possum gravy. He smacked his thick lips over this revenge. With all the insolence of a servant in brief authority, he gloated over his prey, and prodded him awake. Then murmured with hypocritical deference: "Excuse me, but could I see yo' ticket for yo' seat?"

"Certainly not! It's too much trouble," grumbled the half asleeper. "Confound you!"

The porter lured him on: "Is you sho' you got one?"

Wedgewood was wide awake now, and surly as any Englishman before breakfast: "Of cawse I'm shaw. How dare you?"

"Too bad, but I'm bleeged to ask you to gimme a peek at it."

"This is an outrage!"

"Yassah, but I just natchely got to see it."

Wedgewood gathered himself together, and ransacked his many pockets with increasing anger, muttering under his breath. At length he produced the ticket, and thrust it at the porter: "Thah, you idiot, are you convinced now?"

The porter gazed at the billet with ill-concealed triumph. "Yassah. I's convinced," Mr. Wedgewood settled back and closed his eyes. "It's convinced that you is in the wrong berth!"

"Impossible! I won't believe you!" the Englishman raged, getting to his feet in a fury.

"Perhaps you'll believe Mista Ticket," the porter chortled. "He says numba ten, and that's ten across the way and down the road a piece."

"This is outrageous! I decline to move."

"You may decline, but you move just the same," the porter said, reaching out for his various bags and car-rivals. "The train moves and you move with it."

Wedgewood stood fast: "You had no right to put me in here in the first place."

The porter disdained to refute this slander. He stumbled down the aisle with the bundles. "It's too bad, it's sutt'nly too bad, but you sholy must come along."

Wedgewood followed, gesticulating violently.

"Here—wait—how dare you! And that berth is made up. I don't want to go to bed now!"

"Mista Ticket says, 'Go to bed!'"

"Of all the disgusting countries! Hesh, don't put that thab—heah."

The porter flung his load anywhere, and absolved himself with a curt, "It's got otha passengers to wait on now."

"I shall certainly report you to the company," the Englishman fumed. "Yassah, I p'sume so."

"Have I got to go to bed now? Really, I—," but the porter was gone, and the irate foreigner crawled under his curtains, muttering, "I shall write a letter to the London Times about this."

To add to his misery, Mrs. Whitcomb came from the Women's Room, and as she passed him, she prodded him with one sharp elbow and twisted the corner of her heel into his little toe. He thrust his head out with his fiercest, "How dare you!" But Mrs. Whitcomb was fresh from a prolonged encounter with Mrs. Wellington, and she flung back a venomous glare that sent the Englishman to cover.

The porter reveled in his victory till he had to dash out to the vestibule to give vent to hilarious yelps of laughter. When he had regained composure, he came back to Marjorie, and bent over him to say:

"Yo' berth is empty, sah. Shall I make it up?"

Marjorie nodded, and turned to Marjorie, with a sad, "Good night, darling."

The porter rolled his eyes again, and turned away, only to be recalled by Marjorie's voice: "Porter, take this old handbag out of here."

The porter thought of the vanquished Lathrop, exiled to the smoking room, and he answered: "That belongs to the gemman what owns this berth."

"Put it in number one," Marjorie commanded, with a queenly gesture.

The porter obeyed meekly, wondering what would happen next. He had no sooner deposited Lathrop's valise among the incongruous white ribbons, than Marjorie recalled him to say:

"And, porter, you may bring me my own baggage."

"Yo what—missus?"

"Our handbags, idiot," Marjorie explained, peevishly.

"I ain't seen no handbags of you-all," the porter protested. "You-all don't have no handbags when you got trouble," grumbled the half asleeper. "Confound you!"

The porter lured him on: "Is you sho' you got one?"

Wedgewood was wide awake now, and surly as any Englishman before breakfast: "Of cawse I'm shaw. How dare you?"

"Too bad, but I'm bleeged to ask you to gimme a peek at it."

"This is an outrage!"

"Yassah, but I just natchely got to see it."

Wedgewood gathered himself together, and ransacked his many pockets with increasing anger, muttering under his breath. At length he produced the ticket, and thrust it at the porter: "Thah, you idiot, are you convinced now?"

The porter gazed at the billet with ill-concealed triumph. "Yassah. I's convinced," Mr. Wedgewood settled back and closed his eyes. "It's convinced that you is in the wrong berth!"

"Impossible! I won't believe you!" the Englishman raged, getting to his feet in a fury.

"Perhaps you'll believe Mista Ticket," the porter chortled. "He says numba ten, and that's ten across the way and down the road a piece."

"This is outrageous! I decline to move."

"You may decline, but you move just the same," the porter said, reaching out for his various bags and car-rivals. "The train moves and you move with it."

Wedgewood stood fast: "You had no right to put me in here in the first place."

The porter disdained to refute this slander. He stumbled down the aisle with the bundles. "It's too bad, it's sutt'nly too bad, but you sholy must come along."

Wedgewood followed, gesticulating violently.

"Here—wait—how dare you! And that berth is made up. I don't want to go to bed now!"

"Mista Ticket says, 'Go to bed!'"

"Of all the disgusting countries! Hesh, don't put that thab—heah."

The porter flung his load anywhere, and absolved himself with a curt, "It's got otha passengers to wait on now."

"I shall certainly report you to the company," the Englishman fumed. "Yassah, I p'sume so."

"Have I got to go to bed now? Really, I—," but the porter was gone, and the irate foreigner crawled under his curtains, muttering, "I shall write a letter to the London Times about this."

To add to his misery, Mrs. Whitcomb came from the Women's Room, and as she passed him, she prodded him with one sharp elbow and twisted the corner of her heel into his little toe. He thrust his head out with his fiercest, "How dare you!" But Mrs. Whitcomb was fresh from a prolonged encounter with Mrs. Wellington, and she flung back a venomous glare that sent the Englishman to cover.

The porter reveled in his victory till he had to dash out to the vestibule to give vent to hilarious yelps of laughter. When he had regained composure, he came back to Marjorie, and bent over him to say:

"Yo' berth is empty, sah. Shall I make it up?"

Marjorie nodded, and turned to Marjorie, with a sad, "Good night, darling."

The porter rolled his eyes again, and turned away, only to be recalled by Marjorie's voice: "Porter, take this old handbag out of here."

The porter thought of the vanquished Lathrop, exiled to the smoking room, and he answered: "That belongs to the gemman what owns this berth."

"Put it in number one," Marjorie commanded, with a queenly gesture.

The porter obeyed meekly, wondering what would happen next. He had no sooner deposited Lathrop's valise among the incongruous white ribbons, than Marjorie recalled him to say:

"And, porter, you may bring me my own baggage."

"Yo what—missus?"

"Our handbags, idiot," Marjorie explained, peevishly.

"I ain't seen no handbags of you-all," the porter protested. "You-all don't have no handbags when you got trouble," grumbled the half asleeper. "Confound you!"

The porter lured him on: "Is you sho' you got one?"

Wedgewood was wide awake now, and surly as any Englishman before breakfast: "Of cawse I'm shaw. How dare you?"

"Too bad, but I'm bleeged to ask you to gimme a peek at it."

"This is an outrage!"

"Yassah, but I just natchely got to see it."

Wedgewood gathered himself together, and ransacked his many pockets with increasing anger, muttering under his breath. At length he produced the ticket, and thrust it at the porter: "Thah, you idiot, are you convinced now?"

The porter gazed at the billet with ill-concealed triumph. "Yassah. I's convinced," Mr. Wedgewood settled back and closed his eyes. "It's convinced that you is in the wrong berth!"

"Impossible! I won't believe you!" the Englishman raged, getting to his feet in a fury.

"Perhaps you'll believe Mista Ticket," the porter chortled. "He says numba ten, and that's ten across the way and down the road a piece."

"This is outrageous! I decline to move."

"You may decline, but you move just the same," the porter said, reaching out for his various bags and car-rivals. "The train moves and you move with it."

Wedgewood stood fast: "You had no right to put me in here in the first place."

The porter disdained to refute this slander. He stumbled down the aisle with the bundles. "It's too bad, it's sutt'nly too bad, but you sholy must come along."

Wedgewood followed, gesticulating violently.

"Here—wait—how dare you! And that berth is made up. I don't want to go to bed now!"

"Mista Ticket says, 'Go to bed!'"

"Of all the disgusting countries! Hesh, don't put that thab—heah."

The porter flung his load anywhere, and absolved himself with a curt, "It's got otha passengers to wait on now."

"I shall certainly report you to the company," the Englishman fumed. "Yassah, I p'sume so."

"Have I got to go to bed now? Really, I—," but the porter was gone, and the irate foreigner crawled under his curtains, muttering, "I shall write a letter to the London Times about this."

To add to his misery, Mrs. Whitcomb came from the Women's Room, and as she passed him, she prodded him with one sharp elbow and twisted the corner of her heel into his little toe. He thrust his head out with his fiercest, "How dare you!" But Mrs. Whitcomb was fresh from a prolonged encounter with Mrs. Wellington, and she flung back a venomous glare that sent the Englishman to cover.

The porter reveled in his victory till he had to dash out to the vestibule to give vent to hilarious yelps of laughter. When he had regained composure, he came back to Marjorie, and bent over him to say:

"Yo' berth is empty, sah. Shall I make it up?"

Life Saver

In a letter from Branchland, W. Va., Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman says: "I suffered from womanly troubles nearly five years. All the doctors in the county did me no good. I took Cardui, and now I am entirely well. I feel like a new woman. Cardui saved my life! All who suffer from womanly trouble should give Cardui a trial."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

50 years of proof have convinced those who tested it, that Cardui quickly relieves aches and pains due to womanly weakness, and helps nature to build up weak women to health and strength. Thousands of women have found Cardui to be a real life saver. Why not test it for your case? Take Cardui today!

on this can."

Mallory jumped as if he had been shot. "Good Lord, I remember! We left 'em in the taxicab!"

The porter cast his hands up, and walked away from the tragedy. Marjorie stared at Mallory in horror.

"We had so little time to catch the train," Mallory stammered. Marjorie leaped to her feet: "I'm going up in the baggage car."

"For the dog?"

"For my trunk."

And now Mallory annihilated her completely, for he gasped: "Our trunks are on the train ahead!"

Marjorie fell back for one moment, then bounded to her feet with shrill commands: "Porter! Porter! I want you to stop this train this minute!"

The porter called back from the depths of a berth: "This train don't stop till tomorrow noon."

Marjorie had strength enough for only one vain protest: "Do you mean to say that I've got to go to San Francisco in this waist—a waist that has seen a whole day in Chicago?"

The best consolation Mallory could offer was companionship in misery. He pushed forward one not too immaculate cuff. "Well, this is the only linen I have."

"Don't speak to me," snapped Marjorie, beating her heels against the floor.

"But, my darling!"

"Go away and leave me. I hate you!"

Mallory rose up, and stumbling down the aisle, plucked into berth number three, an allegory of despair.

About this time, Little Jimmie Wellington, having completed more or less chaotic preparations for sleep, found that he had put on his pyjamas hind-side foremost. After vain efforts to whirl round quickly and get at his own back, he put out a frowzy head, and called for help.

"Say, Porter, Porter!"

"I'm still on the train," answered the porter, coming into view.

"You'll have to look me up."

The porter rendered what aid and correction he could in Wellington's hippopotamoid toilet. Wellington was just wide enough awake to discern the undisturbed bridal-chamber. He whined:

"Say, porter, that rice-trap. Aren't they going to flop the rice-trap?"

The porter shook his head sadly. "Don't look like that flopper's a'go in to flip. That dog-on bridal couple is done divorced a'ready!"

CHAPTER XVI.

Good Night, All!

The car was settling gradually into peace. But there was still some murmur and drowsy energy. Shoes continued to drop, heads to bump against upper berths, the bell to ring now and then, and ring again and again.

The porter paid little heed to it; he was busy making up number five (Ira Lathrop's berth) for Marjorie, who was making what preparations she could for her trousseseless, husbandless, dogless night out.

Finally the Englishman, who had almost rung the bell dry of electricity, shoved from his berth his indignant and undignified head. Once more the car resounded with the cry of "Paw-tah! Paw-tah!"

The porter moved up with noticeable deliberation. "Did you ring, sah?"

"Did I ring! Paw-tah, you may draw my tub at eight-thirty in the mawning."

"Draw yo—what, sah?" the porter gasped.

"My tub."

"Ba-ath tub?"

"Baath tub."

"Lawdy, man. Is you allowin' to take a ba-ath in the mawnin'?"

"Of course I am."

"Didn't you have one befo' you stahsted?"

"How dare you! Of cawse I did."

"Well, that's all you gawse."

"Do you mean to tell me that there is no tub on this beastly train?" Wedgewood almost fell out of bed with the shock of this news.

"We do not carry tubs—no, sah. There's a lot of tubs in San Francisco, though."

"No tub on this train for four days!" Wedgewood sighed. "But whatever does one do in the meanwhile?"

"One just waits. Yassah, one and all waits."

"It's ghastly, that's what it is, ghastly."

"Yassah," said the porter, and mumbled as he walked away, "but the weather is gettin' cooler."

He finished preparing Marjorie's bunk, and was just suggesting that Mallory retreat to the smoking room while number three was made up, when there was a commotion in the corridor, and a man in checked overalls dashed into the car.

His ear was slightly red, and he held at arm's length, as if it were a venomous monster, Snoozeleums. And he yelled:

"Say, whose durn dog is this? He bit two men, and he makes so much noise we can't sleep in the baggage car."

Marjorie went flying down the aisle to reclaim her lost lamb in wolf's clothing, and Snoozeleums, the returned prodigal, yelped and leaped, and told her all about the indignities he had been subjected to, and his valiant struggle for liberty.

Marjorie, seeing only Snoozeleums, stepped into the fatal berth number one, and paid no heed to the dangling ribbons. Mallory, eager to restore himself to her love by loving her dog, crowded closer to her side, making a hypocritical ado over the pup.

Everybody was popping his or her face out to learn the cause of such clamor. Among the bodiless heads suspended along the curtains, like Dyak trophies, appeared the great mask of Little Jimmie Wellington. He had been unable to sleep for mourning the wanton waste of that lovely rice-trap.

When he peered forth, his eyes hardly believed themselves. The elusive bride and groom were actually in the trap—the hen pheasant and the chanticler. But the net did not fall. He waited to see them sit down, and spring the infernal machine. But they would not sit.

In fact, Marjorie was muttering to Harry—tenderly, now, since he had won her back by his efforts to console Snoozeleums—she was muttering tenderly:

"We must not be seen together, honey. Go away, I'll see you in the morning."

And Mallory was saying with bitter resignation: "Good night—my friend."

And they were shaking hands! This incredible bridal couple was shaking hands with itself—disintegrating! Then Wellington determined to do at least his duty by the sacred rites.

The graping passengers saw what was probably the largest pair of pajamas in Chicago. They saw Little Jimmie, smothering back his giggles like a schoolboy, tiptoe from his berth, enter the next berth, brushing the porter aside, climb on the seat, and clutch the ribbon that pulled the stopper from the trap.

Down upon the unsuspecting elopers came this miraculous cloudburst of ironical rice, and with it came Little Jimmie Wellington, who lost what little balance he had, and catapulted into their midst like the offspring of an iceberg.

It was at this moment that Mrs. Wellington, hearing the loud cries of the panic-stricken Marjorie, rushed from the Women's Room, absent-mindedly combing a totally detached section of her hair. She recognized familiar pyjamas waving in air, and with one faint gasp: "Jimmie! on this train!" she swooned away. She would have fallen, but seeing that no one paid any attention to her, she recovered consciousness on her own hook, and vanished into her berth, to meditate on the whys and wherefores of her husband's presence in this car.

Dr. Temple in a nightgown and trousers; Roger Ashton, in a collarless estate, and the porter, managed to extricate Mr. Wellington from his plight, and stow him away, though it was like putting a whale to bed.

Mallory, seeing that Marjorie had fled, vented his wild rage against fate in general, and rice traps in particular, by tearing the bridal bungalow to pieces, and then he stalked into the smoking room, where Ira Lathrop, homeless and dispossessed, was sound asleep, with his feet in the chair.

He was dreaming that he was a boy in Brattleboro, the worst boy in Brattleboro, trying to get up the courage to spark pretty Anne Gattle, and throwing rocks at the best boy in town, Charlie Selby, who was always at her side. The porter woke Ira, an hour later, and escorted him to the late bridal section.

Marjorie had fled with her dog, as soon as she could grope her way through the deluge of rice. She hopped into her berth, and spent an hour trying to clear her hair of the multitudinous grains. And as for Snoozeleums, his thick wool was so bericed that for two days, whenever he shook himself, he sneezed.

Eventually, the car quieted, and nothing was heard but the rumble and click of the wheels on the rails, the creak of timbers, and the froglike chorus of a few well-trained snorers. As the porter was turning down the last of the lights, a rumpled pate was thrust from the stateroom, and the luscious-eyed man whispered:

"Porter, what time did you say we crossed the Iowa state line?"

"Two fifty-five a. m."

From within the stateroom came a deep sigh, then with a dismal groan: "Call me at two fifty-five a. m.," the door was closed.

Real Estate Department

DO YOU WANT TO BUY a farm or business? If you do you may find just what you need in this department. If you are interested in any of the following properties, write us at once for owner's name and address. If none of these places suit you, write us at once telling us WHAT YOU WANT AND WHERE YOU WANT IT and let us introduce you to the man who has the VERY PROPERTY YOU ARE LOOKING FOR.

ROMANCE OF KETTLE

Tale Told of the Sugar Bush in New England.

Great Iron Pots of Pioneers Passed Before Flat Pans With Its Parties Merry With Song and Dance.

New York.—The romance of the sugar bush makes spring in the Adirondacks one of the most interesting periods of the year. For time out of mind "sugar weather" has been the designation of warm days and cold nights in the early spring, before the snow is gone, and "the sugar snows" have been the heavy, great-floated, and almost early April windless storms.

Maple sugar is inherited from the Indians; perhaps it would be better to say spoils from the forest Indians of the east. The Puritans found the Indians making maple sugar by the primitive method of dropping red-hot stones in watertight baskets full of sap gathered from gashed maples in the hardwood. The Puritans knew a good thing when they saw it, and they, too, made maple sugar, and in the sugar bush, in the melting snows of spring, were enacted many of the horrid tragedies of the New England frontier, when the Indians came raiding out of the New Hampshire, Vermont, and other back lands into which they had been forced by the advance of the white men. The Indian war parties carried parched corn and maple sugar to eat.

When the pioneers moved westward, they carried with them great iron kettles which served so many useful purposes; which held the hot water in which hogs were scalded in the fall; which held the sap and syrup in the spring; which were used to boil down the soft soap in the spring and summer, and which served for apple and other fruit butters when the fruit harvest was at hand. In these days some of the descendants of the old pioneers have these old kettles on tripods in their front yards, full of earth and green with plants during the summer months, for the day of the old sugar kettle is nearly gone, pans having taken their places.

With the passing of the kettle, much of the romance of the sugar bush passed away. The sugar kettle had certain charms not to be had in scientific pans in over-nice sugar houses in too well-kept sugar bushes.

In the old days, generosity was the habit of the pioneer. He was so lonely that he gave much for the sake of company and rare jubilation. The year was bitter and hard, but at certain times he had Thanksgiving, the Christmas holidays, and then sugar-ing-off.

The pioneer had his sugar-bush, which he considered as one of his farm's most valuable features. The hardwood ridge was carefully culled over, the beech and birch trees being cut out for firewood, the spruce, hemlock and pine for the logs, the bark, and the timber, but the maples were left to grow, for they were a crop tree.

Testing the Sugar.

It is recalled that in the days of the Revolution, a farmer was making sugar on the hills south of Little Falls, N. Y. He was ready to sugar off when the Indians came and he fled. Two years later, when the bush was next visited, the old kettle was found on its nest of rocks almost full of a dark brown mass that was almost as hard as the granite. The sugar had hardened in the kettle, but in weathering it had become useless.

QUART OF SOOT IN LUNGS

Pittsburgher Who Has Lived Fifty Years in Smoky City Said to Be Black Inside.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Over $500,000 worth of laundry of the male residents of Pittsburgh is destroyed every year by smoke, according to Prof. R. C. Benner of the University of Pittsburgh, in an address before the board of trade.

And that it not all. Prof. Benner stated that from the lungs of a man who had lived 50 years here, a quart of soot had been taken. He exhibited the soot, too.

In a cubic mile of atmosphere in Pittsburgh, the professor said, there are 4 1/2 tons of soot.

Cemetery Was Bride's Boudoir. Moyock, N. C.—After Miss Eula P. Cherry left her parents' home in North Carolina, presumably for school, she went to a cemetery, where girl friends helped her put up her hair and don a long skirt. Soon afterwards John Edmunds, aged forty years, drove up in his automobile. The couple motored to Moyock, N. C., and were married.

WOMEN SHOULD BE PROTECTED

Against So Many Surgical Operations. How Mrs. Bethune and Mrs. Moore Escaped.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Murrayville, Ill.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a very bad case of female trouble and it made me a well woman. My health was all broken down, the doctors said I must have an operation, and I was ready to go to the hospital, but I dreaded it so that I began taking your Compound. I got along so well that I gave up the doctors and was saved from the operation."—Mrs. CHARLES MOORE, R. R. No. 3, Murrayville, Ill.

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

BAG DINNERS FOR THE WORKINGMAN.

By M. Soyer, Chef of Brooks' Club, London.

The era of paper bag cooking, which I have had the honor of recently perfecting, opens up a happier prospect to the wife of the workingman, the clerk or other employee on a small salary, not only in the quantity of the dishes she may prepare, but in more leisure for herself.

Let any frugal house mother may be appalled at the prospect of having to use some two or three bags before she can produce a dinner, let me state that all the following recipes, each of which I have tested personally, can be cooked in one bag, leaving only the pudding, pie or tart to be considered.

In drawing up these dinners for a week I have had in mind a household consisting of mother, father and three or four children, ranging from twelve to five years of age.

It must be borne in mind that meat wastes practically not at all during the cooking process in the bag; therefore, if you put four pounds into the bag, four pounds will come out.

Sunday. Allow a quarter of a pound of meat per head for each child, and a half a pound per head for the two adults, and you will have two pounds left over, either for Sunday night's supper or for next day's dinner. As to vegetables, get some carrots, onions and turnips, mixed, and two pounds of potatoes.

Peel the potatoes, slice them very thinly, and leave in water till needed. Peel and slice the onions and turnips and scrape the carrots. Cut all into small squares. Wash well; leave on a plate till needed. Take a little suet or two good tablespoonfuls of dripping. Rub this into half a pound of flour, and salt to taste, being careful not to overdo this and a little pepper. Mix to the ordinary dumpling consistency with cold water, and shape into dumplings about the size of a big Brazil nut.

Wash the beef well, but do not dry it. Sprinkle it with seasoned flour—that is, flour to which a little pepper and salt have been added—on both sides. Now grease the large bag thickly with beef dripping. Take the potatoes out of their bowl. Do not dry them, but sprinkle them lightly with the seasoned flour. Then take the potatoes, carrots, turnips and onions, and mix them all well together, sprinkling them with a very little salt. Take a handful of this mixture and some dumplings, and put them into the bottom of the bag. Then put in the flank of beef. Press it in as tightly and as closely to the vegetables as possible. Light the oven gas beforehand, let it get as hot as it can for eight minutes. Then place the paper bag on the broiler, put the broiler on the shelf of the oven, and close the door. Turn the gas down half way, and leave the bag in from an hour and a half to two hours.

Monday. What is left over from Sunday will make dinner for Monday. Grease a bag well as before. Cut up the remains of the stewed beef into small square pieces. Dust these with fresh seasoned flour. Put two pounds of potatoes, cut small and dusted with salt, into a greased bag as before.

Sprinkle the meat with a little powdered sweet herbs put in the bag, and add to it a handful of either rice, barley or oatmeal, which has been soaking all night in cold water. If the water has not been quite all absorbed, add this also. Now add the remains of any gravy which may be over from the previous day. Close the bag, place it on broiler as before, and cook for 60 minutes.

A jam turnover will be just the right sort of substantial dish to follow the beef. For this you must have a bag.

Rub four ounces of lard or good dripping into half pound of flour salted to taste till it crumbles well. Add sufficient cold water to make to a stiff paste; roll out twice. Mark out a square and spread this thickly with any kind of jam liked. Fold over the two sides first and pinch well together. Now fold over the two sides in the same way. Brush over with water or milk, and sprinkle well with brown sugar. Put into the greased bag and bake for forty-five minutes.

Tuesday. Take two pounds of cold boiled potatoes, pour on to them two wineglassfuls of hot milk or water, add a good big lump of dripping or cold bacon fat, and mash to pulp, then beat up with a fork till quite light. Take one and a half pounds of either sausages or sausage meat (if the former squeeze the meat out of the skins) and make into small cakes each sausage making two cakes. Sprinkle a little finely chopped onion on top of each cake. Make the potato pulp into thick round cakes, and put a sausage cake on top of each. Place in a well greased bag. Close it, and cook in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Old-fashioned Irish plum porridge. Soak half a pound of oatmeal over night in cold water. At the same time soak four ounces of well washed currants in another dish. Grease a bag well, drain the currants, add them to the oatmeal together with a bit of butter the size of a walnut. Mix, place in the bag, close, and cook for fifty minutes in a moderately hot oven. (Copyright, 1911, by Sturgis & Walton Company.)

Constipation causes headache, indigestion, dizziness, drowsiness. For a mild, opening medicine, use Doan's Regulents. 25c a box at all stores.

Wants Clear Conscience.

New York.—That he might plead guilty to a theft in 1908 and die with a clear conscience, Daniel Loewy was carried on a stretcher into general session the other day before Judge Crain. Abraham Levy, his counsel, told the story of the robbery by Loewy of ten sable skins from his employer, the skins being valued at $1,750. Judge Crain then suspended sentence. Loewy is declared by physicians to be slowly dying.

He went to San Francisco in February, 1910, and while in the new Western hotel there was held up, shot and robbed by three unidentified men, who escaped. They took all the diamonds Loewy had.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters reached the cause."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

FEWER STORKS IN ALSACE

System of Registration Is Being Tried to Learn About Migratory Habits.

Every year the number of storks to be seen in Alsace becomes less. Of the four nests perched on the big chimneys on the old roofs of Strassburg, only one has been occupied this year.

In many of the villages the great migrators have ceased for a long time to relieve the landscape, and it seems only a question of time when the stork in Alsace will be a memory. Various are the causes assigned for this desertion—the draining of the marshes, the multiplication of telephone and telegraph wires and the smoke from factory chimneys.

In Germany for the better study of storks there has been created a sort of service in connection with the Education Department which tends to set up an "etat civil" for each bird, or, in other words, to register them after the manner which obtains for citizens in France.

Each bird is captured where possible and a metallic disk affixed to its leg, and German officials, wherever the birds are believed to migrate, have instructions to send to the department any information they can gather concerning storks who are German subjects. (Possibly this labeling may have something to do with the scarcity.) By this system of registration the authorities have learned something of the migratory habits of the bird; for instance, one was found dead at the Cape of Good Hope whose place of origin was eastern Prussia.

A point of interest relative to the scarcity of the stork has been brought under the notice of the German authorities by a doctor at Port Elizabeth, who suggests that they have been poisoned through eating grasshoppers or locusts which have been killed by arsenic. A correspondent, however, of an Alsace-Lorraine journal hints that the cause is to be found nearer at home.

Consult T. N. McGlothlin for subscriptions to Courier-Journal, Times, Post, Herald, Farmers Home Journal, Stock Yard Journal, Western Recorder and Breckenridge News.

CRAB'S WALK OF 98 MILES

Homing Instinct Is Shown by Some Recent Experiments in England.

Some remarkably interesting details regarding the movements and the homing instinct of the edible crab were presented to the Eastern Sea Fisheries Committee. During the past two years Fishery Inspector H. Donnellson has been carrying out investigations on behalf of the committee, and the results of his work cannot fail to be of considerable use to those concerned in biological research.

In the course of an exhaustive report he stated that between July and September, 1910, nearly two thousand crabs were captured, and after being labeled were again set free along the Norfolk and Lincolnshire coasts. The crabs had recently cast their shells, and new ones were then in process of hardening.

Rewards were paid to fishermen upon returning the crabs when recaptured. They were returned to the sea at varying distances from the shore, and up to the present 21 per cent of the labeled crustaceans had been recaptured and full data tabulated.

With regard to the Norfolk crabs liberated in the places from which they were originally obtained, fifty-two were recaptured within one mile of their first home, but one traveled as far as Flamborough Head, a distance of ninety-eight statute miles. Nearly three hundred had traveled only three or four miles from where they were originally taken.—London Standard.

MARK GRAVE OF HEROINE

Clubwomen to Preserve Memory of Woman Who Gave Life to Help Smallpox Sufferers.

Clubwomen, assisted by the doctors of North Billerica, Mass., are taking steps to preserve the memory of Sarah Hodgeman, who gave her life more than a century ago in her efforts to help neighbors who were suffering from smallpox. It happened during the smallpox epidemic in 1811. On learning that a family of four persons with two guests were ill with the disease, and had no one to help them, Miss Hodgeman, against the protest of her family and friends, entered the infected house and did all in her power for its inmates.

Within two weeks it was noticed that the customary smoke did not curl from the chimney. Some of the townsfolk finally mustered up courage to investigate. It was found that the entire household, Sarah Hodgeman included, had died of the disease. It is now proposed to erect a monument in the place of the old gray headstone which marks her grave.

Hope Not Realized.

Dean Summer of the Cathedral SS. Peter and Paul related the following story at the recent banquet of the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Hotel Sherman. "A little Jewish boy went to his father on Christmas day and asked him for a quarter. Upon receiving it he sauntered out into the city streets and didn't return until evening. His father called him as he came in and inquired what he did with the quarter he had been given. 'I went to the candy shop next door and changed it into nickels,' said the boy. 'Then I went to the news stand on the corner and changed the nickels into pennies. After that I went back to the candy shop and got five nickels for my pennies, and then I went to the delicatessen and got a quarter for my five nickels.'

"But why did you do all that?" demanded the father. "I hoped that somebody might make a mistake and give me too much," replied the boy."

A Polyglot Playwright.

M. Dario Nicodemini is a citizen of the world. He was born in Italy. He was reared in the Argentine Republic, where he was initiated in Spanish culture. He wrote his first play in the language of Cervantes. It was produced at Buenos Ayres and was called "La Duda" (The Doubt).

Soon after that an Italian actress in South America offered a prize for an acceptable play in her mother tongue. M. Nicodemini took the prize with his play "Per la Vita." He soon afterward wrote "L'Hirondelle" (The Swallow) in French and it is played at Brussels. At Paris he began his work by translating and adapting the English play of "Raffles."—Le Cri de Paris.

Recovers Ring 13 Years Lost.

A class ring lost 13 years ago by Mrs. J. H. Reese, when she was a pupil of the Lancaster high school, was restored to the owner.

Mrs. Reese, then Miss Lella L. Urbam, lost the ring, which was engraved with her name, while walking on the lawn of her home. It was recovered by men resetting a fence.—Lancaster Correspondent Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A Cruel Retort.

"I'm afraid of woman suffrage," said Little Binks. "My wife is a militant suffragette, but up to date I am Julius Caesar in my house." "I guess you are, Binks, I guess you are," said Wiggles. "There ain't many dearer ones than Julius Caesar in this world."—Harper's Weekly.

She Talked Too Much.

Mrs. Benham—Money talks. Benham—Keep the change, please.

THE KENTUCKY FARMER

A LIVE JOURNAL PUBLISHED BILMONTHLY LOUISVILLE, KY.

Devoted to and representative of the Agricultural and Live Stock interests of Kentucky and the South.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE: 50 CENTS PER YEAR, $1.00 FOR THREE YEARS MAILED THE 1st AND 15th OF EACH MONTH

THE KENTUCKY FARMER has the ablest and best equipped staff of writers and contributors of any farm journal in the South. It will convey to the homes of its readers the news, happenings and leading events in the agricultural world, and will treat farm topics from a scientific and economical standpoint.

—FOR A LIMITED TIME—

The Kentucky Farmer AND The Breckenridge News

will be sent to Prompt paying and New Subscribers, both

One Year, $1

In renewing, State whether you want The Kentucky Farmer

Send Subscriptions To

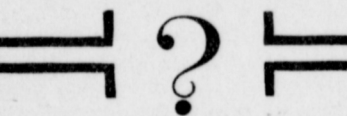

The Breckenridge News Cloverport, Ky.

BARGAINS FOR QUICK SALE!

10 Male Poland China Pigs, 5 to 8 months old—good ones, also 3 nice bred Gilts. A black saddle horse 5 years old and some nice cattle.

W. J. OWEN & SONS : R. No. 1, Hardinsburg, Ky.

Ever Travel ina Pullman

You'd never imagine that all the ripping, roaring and complex comedy situations that you'll read about in the new serial story we have arranged to print were possible within the confines of an ordinary sleeper.

EXCUSE ME!

That's the title, but there is no excuse for you to miss reading this story by

RUPERT HUGHES The Well-Known Author

It's a tale that travels at a mile-a-minute gait from beginning to end, with a round of laughter in every chapter. Watch for it!

All Aboard Don't Miss This Serial

Satisfied In Temple, Oklahoma. Still Loves Home.

Friend John:—Enclosed you will find check for paper. I take one of my old county papers all the time, so I can hear from my old friends.

In a crowd in this country, if a man says he is from Kentucky he is sure to be cheered. It seems that all Kentuckians are proud to hear the name Kentucky called. We have a number of them here and Breckenridge county is well represented, and I am proud to tell you that they are getting along well, and while we are proud of our old Kentucky friends, we cannot get the consent of our mind to give up our pleasant homes here and return to spend our last days with them there who are dear to our hearts.

We have fine prospects at present for good crops. We have out our first crop of alfalfa, it was immense, yielded near 2 tons per acre. We get four cuttings per year. Our fruit prospect is fine. We will have ripe peaches from middle of June till last of October. Our garden is good, we have most all kinds of vegetables now. We had our first beans yesterday, been eating new potatoes for two weeks, cabbage will be in shortly. Come out and see for yourself. Yours respectfully,

Henry Harned, Temple, Okla.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health Is Worth Saving, And Some Cloverport People Know How To Save It.

Many Cloverport people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers.

The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

W. M. Young, farmer, R. F. D. No. 3, Hawesville, Cloverport, Ky., says: "A member of my family used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills about three years ago and found them very beneficial. She had pains in her side and across the small of her back. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in the local papers, she got a supply at Gibson & Son's Drug Store and began using them as directed. In a short time she was cured and has not had any further need of a kidney remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Notice

That resolutions of respect are published at 5 cents per line. Please do not send obituaries to the News without expecting to pay for the publication of this kind of matter.

$3.50 Louisville Evening Post and Breckenridge News one year $3.50

Subscribe Today! Now!

Kirschbaum's Clothes

Our Line of Men's Kirschbaum Clothing
Have snap and style, but better still, have quality.
We have received a shipment of extraordinary suits for summer. They sell from $12 to $35.

Young Man This is Personal to You

GET YOU A GIRL GET MARRIED GET A HOME

Then Come To

Ed. Alexander's, - Irvington, Ky.

Muslin and Lace Curtains, Window Shades—all colors, Table Linens, Towels, elegant China Ware, and fine Kitchen Ware
Make Your Home Convenient Make Work a Pleasure Instead of Drudgery

Linoleum 45 cents square yd. Attractive Designs.
Carpets Ingrain & Cottage. Quality, 15c to 35c.
Matting Flower Designs. All colors, 12 1-2 to 35c.

Wall Paper in 1912 Patterns. All prices, 5c to 25c.

Want WOOL Bring it to us and be Highest Market PRICE pleased with your sale

Everything in Our Store to meet the needs, wants, and fancies of men, women, and children

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE THE BANK OF HARDINSBURG & TRUST CO.

Bank, doing business at the town of Hardinsburg, County of Breckenridge, State of Kentucky at the close of business on the 18th day of May, 1912.

RESOURCES

Loans and Discounts with one or more endorsers or sureties.	$168,593 57
Real Estate Mortgages.	65,000 00
Call Loans on Collateral.	17,000 00
Time Loans on Collateral.	59,000 00
Other Stocks, Bonds, Etc.	10,337 49
Due from National Banks.	48,424 77
United States and National Bank Notes.	9,000 00
Specie.	7,386 78
Checks and other cash items.	2,849 11
Overdrafts (unsecured).	1,015 81
Current Expenses Paid.	2,510 57
Real Estate—Banking House	1,500 00
Other Assets not included under any of above heads.	110 41
Total	392,628 51

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock paid in, in cash	$ 50,000 00
Surplus Funds.	20,000 00
Undivided Profits.	11,761 43
Deposits subject to check (on which interest is not paid).	156,634 68
Deposits subject to check (on which interest is paid).	154,232 40
Total	310,867 08
	392,628 51

STATE OF KENTUCKY, }
County of Breckenridge, }
I, Paul Compton, Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
Paul Compton, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of May, 1912.
My Commission expires Jan 10, 1914.
Claude Mercer,
Notary Public.
Correct Attest
A. M. Kincheloe,
C. V. Robertson,
B. F. Beard.

Board-Squires.

The marriage of Miss Eliza Squires to Mr. Amos Board took place at The Willard Hotel in Louisville last Thursday. The Rev. Mr. Brown officiated. The bride and groom are members of well known families in Hardinsburg and their wedding is of interest to many.

SANITATION IS HOOK WORM CHECK

Counties Of Kentucky Should See That It Is Properly Regarded-Worm Enters Body By Water Or Boring Through Skin.

HORRIBLE AS TUBERCULOSIS.

Twenty-five counties in Kentucky have reported cases of hookworm during the last year, and the State Board of Health has been aroused to unusual vigilance over the prevalence of the disease in such a widespread area of the State. The counties in which the disease has manifested itself to the most alarming extent lie, for the most part, in the extreme southeastern portion of the State. There are a few counties in the middle-southern portion, and four in the western part of the State, where hookworm has been found to flourish.

How To Avoid Pest.

The general disregard for sanitation in the country and small towns and the outskirts of the larger ones is responsible for nearly all the cases of hookworm, according to the Bulletin. This paper says:

"The infection cannot spread in communities provided with good sewer systems, and in the smaller towns and villages the spread will be proportional to the number and style of closets and the carelessness exercised in keeping them. A careful sanitary survey is being made in each county, and it appears that considerably less than 10 per cent. of our farm homes have closets of any sort.

"More than 30 per cent. of the students in some of the Southern colleges have been found infected, and in some of the common schools 95 per cent. of the children have shown the infection upon microscopical examination. Several schools in Kentucky have been examined, showing infections of from 10 per cent. to 50 per cent. There is good reason to believe that the percentage of infection in some of the county schools will run as high as 90 per cent.

The worms do not multiply in the body, but the adult females deposit great number of eggs, from a few hundred to three or four thousand every day, which are passed off with the normal bowel movements. These eggs, under favorable conditions of temperature, moisture and shade, hatch out the young worms, called larvae, in the course of about twenty-four hours. Within a week the tiny organism has shed its skin twice, much as does the snake. It lives in this cast-off skin, but takes no food after the first few days following its escape from the egg.

How Worm Enters Body.

After the shedding of the skin the young worm is in the stage in which it is capable of entering the human body, which it may do in one or two ways. First, it may be swallowed with contaminated food or water. Secondly, it may get into the body by boring through the skin. In penetrating the skin the embryos produce the condition known as "dew poison" or "ground itch," which is usually the first stage of hookworm disease. This "dew poison" is generally on the feet or about the ankles, and it is believed that the wearing of shoes will largely prevent it and protect against hookworm disease.

After penetrating the skin the worm enters the blood stream, passes through the heart and lungs, makes its way up the wind-pipe or is coughed up and swallowed, and after it passes down the gullet into the stomach finally enters the small bowel. This method of entering the body that has been demonstrated in actual experiment upon human beings and lower animals. Having reached the site in the body where it elects to reside, the worm sheds its skin twice more, becomes mature and mates. The eggs have been known to appear in the stools six and one-half weeks after experimental skin infection.

UNION STAR.

R. C. Richardson and son, Saxton, of Louisville, are at the bedside of their mother and grand-mother, Mrs. D. S. Richardson.

Miss Nannie Hall returned Saturday from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Roland Smith, of Stephensport.

D. B. Lawson was the guest of friends in town Sunday.

George E. Shellman returned Saturday from the State College at Lexington. He was in town Sunday afternoon.

Miss Wilda Robertson was the guest of relatives in Bewleyville Sunday.

Herbert Kroush was in Frymire Saturday.

Homer Barr, of Frymire, was the guest of Herbert Kroush Sunday.

Roy H. Bassett was in Frymire Sunday afternoon.

L. P. Milner was in Louisville last week.

June Hosley sold his tobacco last week at the Main Street House at the following prices: best leaf $16; second leaf $15.75; lugs $10.75; trash $8.60 per hundred.

Miss Mattie Knott is staying with her sister, Mrs. Hickerson, who has typhoid.

Jacob Cart and family, of near Lodi burg, were guests of Wm. Dowell Sunday.

Mrs. Percy Beard, of Hardinsburg, was visiting her mother, Mrs. D. S. Richardson last week.

Write Louis Jolly about the Free Trip to Niagara Falls given by the management of the 4th July Barbecue at Irvington.

LODIBURG.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Hardin and son, Brooks, of Brandenburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hardin Sunday.

Pug Brown, of Illinois, was the guest of his uncle, J. W. Brown, last week.

Mrs. Reece French, of Mystic, was visiting Mrs. Sam Brown and Oscar French last week.

There was quite a crowd from here attended the Sunday School Convention at Webster Saturday.

Mrs. Charlie Payne was visiting her father, James Wadlington, of Union Star, last week.

Miss Sudie Pollic, of Irvington, was the guest of Mrs. Grayson Payne last

Opening of New Goods

Beginning Business on a New Scale

Your Attention Invited

To the People of the Sample Vicinity and Breckenridge County:

I have made a Complete Settlement with my creditors and am now ready to serve my customers again at the same old place, but in a different way, as I have added to my stock a lot of up-to-date goods, just from the factories in Cincinnati, St. Louis and Louisville; thus cutting out the jobbers' profits, and enabling me to sell them at prices much lower than merchandise ever was sold before in this vicinity.

My stock consists of the famous

R. J. R. Brand Shoes

in up-to-date Men's, Boys', Women's, Misses' and Children's Shoes, all in the very Latest Styles

Men's Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Ladies' Dress Goods, Notions, Groceries, Hardware, Farm Implements, Fertilizer.

In fact, everything the Farmer, Mechanic and Housewife needs. Below I will give you a few of my prices, enabling you to have some idea as to the bargains I have to offer

Granulated Sugar a lb.	5c	Best grade Flour a bag	75c	Best calico a yard	5c	Men's $15 Suits, at	$10	Boys' $7 Suits, at	$4
------------------------	----	------------------------	-----	--------------------	----	----------------------	------	---------------------	-----

I have made arrangements with hotels to take all my Poultry, Eggs and Butter, thereby cutting out the commission man's profit which enables me to pay you Louisville prices for your produce. I respectfully solicit your patronage and assure you I can save you money and will do all in my power to please you.
Yours truly

G. W. ESKRIDGE, : Sample, Ky.

Saturday and Sunday.

The Sunday School at Walnut Grove is progressing nicely, with Tom Robertson as superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bandy, of Frymire, last Sunday.

Mrs. Carlton Payne, of Webster, is the guest of Mrs. Charlie Payne and others this week.

Mrs. Bion Beauchamp, of Hawesville, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Argabright, this week.

Mrs. Ida Nottingham was the guest of her brother, Charlie Dutschke, of Hardin county, last week.

Write Louis Jolly about the Free Trip to Niagara Falls, given by the management of the 4th of July Barbecue at Irvington.

Miss Myrtle Deacon and Miss Estel were visiting Mrs. Charlie Avitt and attended church at Raymond last Sunday.

Mrs. Orendorf, of Webster spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. Jess Parks.

GUSTON.

Mrs. Albert Ashcraft and son, Wallace, of Irvington, were the guests of Mrs. H. L. Bell this week.

Miss Clara Brown and Miss Beulah Mills are at home after visiting a week at Irvington with Mrs. L. Kirtly.

Miss Nannie Webb, of Ekron, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Kinneson, Thursday.

Mrs. Tom McCoy and daughter, Nina, were the guests of Mrs. Mary Coleman Tuesday.

Miss Lottie Bandy, of Irvington, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Cecil Shane, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bunker were in Irvington Saturday shopping.

Mrs. Mary Coleman left Saturday for a short visit to her son, Henry Adkisson, of Ekron.

Mrs. S. C. Neafus and two children, of Irvington, spent the week-end as guests of Mrs. John Childs.

Write Louis Jolly about the Free

Trip to Niagara Falls, given by the management of the 4th July Barbecue at Irvington.

Little Nettie Lynn Board spent Saturday in Irvington.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hicks Anderson went to Louisville Saturday to be the guest of relatives and friends until Wednesday.

Kenneth Smith and Lon Butler spent Saturday and Sunday in Garfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Stith and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bunker attended Children's Day Services at Bewleyville Sunday.

Mrs. Nannie Robertson is spending a few days in Irvington with her daughter, Mrs. Albert Ashcraft.

Ball-Shrewsbury.

Mrs. L. C. Taul and daughter went to McQuady Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Ball to Mr. Shrewsbury which took place that day.

Subscribe Now